LETTERS TO BEAR

Stogie Guy Gets No Replies

I don't get it. Maybe you can explain?

When I received BEAR 37, I thought I'd write to a few of the guys in the Man-to-Man Personals. So I wrote 13 letters, grabbed 13 photos of myself (and they was all nekkid, even) and included a self-addressed stamped envelope with each letter. So far, I received one reply. I also received one of my photos, all bent over, with no letter along with it. That makes two out of 13.

So what in Sam Hill did I do wrong? I ain't no kin to H.O. from California ("Write to Papa," BEAR 37), but I'm getting the same results from BEAR personals and I can't figure it out. Has the term "bear" devolved into just plain "rude," or what? I ain't blaming you guys, 'cause I've read your comments about ads and what a man's supposed to do when he gets a letter. It just looks like nobody paid attention. I hope to gawd that I ain't going through what's normal for BEAR personals. I thought us bears were supposed to be a mite better than that.

Sorry for the complaint session, but I thought you should know that only a few guys who place ads are courteous... the ratio I've seen is 2:13. Do you think I should try again, or should I just enjoy the purty pictures, stories, cartoons and articles, and forget about the guys who have ads and only call themselves bears? This isn't exactly what I had planned.

The Wittke Wire

Why the hell did FOX cancel Profit? Did you see any of the episodes before they yanked it faster than you can say The Chevy Chase Show? The appealingly furry Adrian Pasdar played the title character as an evil snake in the J.R. Ewing mode. Pasdar had an oily eroticism and furry sternum that was enough to keep my interest but apparently not enough to keep the dickweeds who make programming decisions on network television happy. Probably the same FOX dickweeds responsible for canceling Space: Above and Beyond just as my love for James Morrison, who played Commander McQueen, was coming into full bloom.

And speaking of programming dickweeds, I will never ever forgive Comedy Central for canceling Mystery Science Theater 3000. Yeah, yeah, I know the MST3K fans you've encountered in your life have been like Dr. Who freaks, Trekkers, or that comic book store guy on The Simpsons. But second host Mike Nelson had a really nice blond chest and a corn-fed wholesomeness that was irresistible. Which is why you should run, not walk, to see Mystery Science Theater 3000: The Movie if it's playing in your area. Barring that, you should rent the video, unless the dickweeds at Comedy Central have some way of preventing that from happening too.

Besides getting to see the cutely hefty Nelson on the big screen, the movie that he and the robots are forced to watch (please don't make me explain the MST3K premise—I would but the dickweeds at Comedy Central have made this irrelevant) is This Island Earth, a fairly awful sci-fi flick from the '50s that stars lantern-jawed and very furry Rex Reason as Cal Meacham. Yes, his name was Rex Reason, which proves that stupid screen names didn't begin and end with the folks at Catalina Video.

While watching the sold-out opening night screening of MST3K: The Movie at my local art-house multiplex, I was pretty distracted by the dreamy, if dim, Mr. Reason. And even dreamier still is Kevin Murphy, one of the MST3K writers and the voice of character Tom Servo who looks, you'll have to take my word for this, as if he stepped out of the centerspread of this very magazine. I kid you not, he did mucho publicity for the movie and he looked like a young, less odious, Merlin Olson.

Watching the MST3K guys watching a movie from the '50s reminded me of the banquet of hairy, rugged he-men you can often find in old movies. (I know that's an odd segue, but this really is the way my mind works.) So I turned on AMC to take a look at a Gary Cooper movie called Dallas from 1950. Gary Cooper had a wonderfully hairy chest and a face so handsome he could have been a long-lost ancestor of Alec Baldwin. And old Coop did manage to show off some chest fur in Dallas, but the guy who really caught my eye was his co-star Leif Erickson (proving once again that stupid screen names did not begin and end with the folks at Catalina Video). Erickson also had the lead in the TV western The High Chaparral, but every time I tune in for an episode on the scary Family Channel, I seem to find a Leif-less episode. In Dallas, however, Erickson was present and accounted for as Martin Weatherby,

It's not what we had planned either. Hell, we devote 22 pages of BEAR to personal ads with the idea that guys can hook up with each other. We'd make a lot more money selling display ads in that space, and have a heck of a lot more fun filling it up with naked men. But BEAR is about its readers, and we figure it's a pretty cheap way for readers to get some in the flesh.

I don't know what to do about this no-response thing. You're not the only one who is having this experience. There doesn't seem to be anything wrong in your approach. In fact, you've made it easy for guys to respond.

So maybe it's time for a little Bear 101 refresher course for our Man-to-Man advertisers. While BEAR does not buy into defining who is and isn't a bear (and scoffs at categories even more), we do believe in one basic bear definition. And that is that the bear community is an inclusive, accepting, friendly group of people who aren't interested in giving attitude. And for the most part, that's the behavior I see at bear functions. Guys are pretty easy to approach, hugs are given freely, masculine attributes are celebrated. It seems to be acknowledged that there's more fun to be had when everyone is welcome, and you can let your guard down.

So why isn't that same "bear" attitude applied to personal ads? Good Lord, if you're placing an ad you're basically saying, "This is what I'm all about, please respond if I catch your interest." If someone approached you in a bar, you'd be polite even if you weren't interested. Extend the same courtesy to guys who respond to your ad. Why are you even placing an ad if you don't plan to respond?

Our letter-writer continues...

I want to say thanks a lot for "A Night on Baldy's Mountain" (BEAR 38); it's been a while since I've seen a good stogie story in BEAR, and Mr. Prince deserves a fresh Hoyo fer that one... so long as he doesn't change his name to one of those weird symbols like the other "Prince."

But my big question is about the illustrations that went along with the story. I ain't never seen Dade/URSUS draw any other stogie smokers, but I reckon he's got more in his portfolio. How can I ask him about this? Maybe I could buy a few of his drawings or even commission one from him.

Thanks again for the story and the drawings. Cigar-smokin' ba'ars have been makin' me fly-the-flag all my life and I'm glad you ain't forgot about us.

E.P., Texas

Yeah, Jerry's story was good-n-raunchy, all right—I had to wrangle it away from our Powerplay editor, who is really into the stogie scene and wanted it in his magazine.

Dade/URSUS does indeed have other cigar-smut illustrations. And you and the rest of the world can reach him at 935 O'Farrell St., San Francisco, CA 94109 or through Brush Creek.

By Chris Wittke

a virile and handsome gentleman with a thick carpet of blond chest hair that reminded me of just how delightful a furry blond can be.

Which made my mind flash on a blond furry actor I was obsessed with when I was growing up (another example of the stream of my consciousness). Ron Harper played one of the stranded astronauts on the TV version of Planet of the Apes. Maybe you don't remember Harper—I mean, I didn't either until I saw Erickson—but he wore a lace-up makeshift sack/skirt kind of thing that revealed blond curls poking up all over the place. Images of men like him got me through my adolescence. Those images, and several Vaseline products.

Which reminds me of something I wrote about a couple of issues ago... and that is: now that adult magazines are no longer kept on drugstore shelves (if indeed they are stocked at all), how are pubescent gay boys supposed to shoplift Playgirl magazines in order to get through puberty? I needn't have worried... young people who want to see some body hair can pick up (or rip off, if they're little hoods like I was) Cosmopolitan: All About Men, whose premiere issue is out on the stands. Ostensibly, it's a magazine targeting the staple Cosmo market, panicky matchless women, but there is significant gay-market overlap, if you know what I mean. This spin-off mag puts it all on the cover: "101 Gorgeous Real-life Bachelors for You," it screams in a giant yellow headline. "Hunks in Trunks," "The Planet's Most Eligible Heartthrobs," and "Are You a Man Magnet? Find Out!" fill in the cover photo of another man who could be a Baldwin.

Inside there are photos galore of "real-life bachelors" in a variety of settings that seem to require them to take their shirts off, and I am happy to report that the body-shaving thing does not seem to have caught on at all with our straight brothers. On the other hand, there sure are an awful lot of men in the world who claim to make their livings as "personal trainers." The celeb bachelors' section is a visual treat, including shots of that classic chest of John Kennedy Junior's. There are also a couple of nice shots of 6-foot-7-inch beach volleyball superstar Mike Whitmarsh, who says he's had "my wild times. Now I'm ready to settle down." With such a furry chest and busy armpits, the man who has probably made a splash at the Atlanta Olympics by the time you read this should have no problem finding the right person with whom to settle down.

Let's see, this column began with a mention of an actor named Adrian, so let's end with one as well. Only recently have I discovered The Highlander TV series starring Adrian Paul. It's hard to believe this show was on for four seasons before I noticed that Paul looks and sounds like a young Sean Connery with less dense fur; but he's furry nonetheless. Lots of ursine types tend to populate the supporting cast as well, including the hunky bearded daddy who runs Joe's cafe. Good thing The Highlander was allowed to build an audience, or I would've missed it completely. You'd think the programming people at Fox and Comedy Central would understand this premise. Dickweeds. ☐

It Ain't the Meat, It's the Motion

I just picked up your latest issue, and it's one of my favorites so far. But the reason I'm writing is to say thank you—yours is the only gay magazine that features a variety of sizes to enjoy. Yes, I'm talking about cock. It's nice to open a magazine and see a sexy hunk with a penis my size. It makes me feel great. While a big cock is always nice, I don't think it makes someone sexy. Sexiness comes from the man himself. "Masculinity Without the Trappings" sums up my point just fine. Sign me up for six issues.

T.C., California

When we ask a guy to appear in BEAR, often it's without seeing his weenie. There's a simple reason for that: We don't care about size. If he's got that swagger and the right looks, he's man enough for us.

Love Sydney

Hey you hunky bear dudes, just a shout from Down Under, or should that be, "G'day from Down Under"? (Man, I hate that bloody word.) Anyway, I'm not here to tell you what I hate, I'm here to tell you what I love, and that's your magazine. I've known all along that the kind of man that turned me on was a masculine hairy one, but I never thought they could be gay. As you might guess, I'm new to your magazine, but that's because I'm only 18. But I was lucky enough to inherit my father's bear physique and, in a few years, I'll sprout into a fully grown bear and I can't fucking wait! I'll be wreaking havoc on the rumps of like-minded bears everywhere.

In issue 37 you mentioned celebrity bear Kelsey Gramer. Now my pick for celebrity bear is Vinnie Paul, the drummer for one of my favorite heavy metal bands, Pantera. Check him out.

K.L., New South Wales, Australia

Mmmm... heavy metal drummers. Big forearms, sweaty pits. I'm seeing a "Wittke Wire" special column here. But what I wanna know is why you have to wait to get yourself some bear butt? Why don't you just hook up with one of the Aussie bear clubs (see page 19), and find some willing fella? While we certainly value maturity in a man, you should never underestimate the allure of youth. Go out and fuck now—you have your whole life to be older. Just wear your rubbers; you youngsters have a tendency to think you're immortal.

Deliverance

Please extend my subscription to BEAR magazine for another 12 issues. I would prefer first-class mailing if available. I paid for that service in my last subscription renewal, however I received my issues via second-class during the last year.

We stopped using first-class mailing for our domestic subscriptions about a year ago. The change to second-class mailing shouldn't affect your delivery, however. The only difference is that we have to do the sorting work here at the shop rather than having the post office do the work. I'm glad that didn't hold you back from renewing your subscription.

Orange Sunshine

I had to write you guys. I picked up an issue some time back, on a whim. I was blown away! The guys were more of what I find attractive than the guys in other 'zines. I just got issue 37. Jim, your cover model, is the best yet! I think I'm in love, or is it lust? Whichever, I just know I'd like to... well, use your imagination. Any chance you might run more pictures of him? Any chance you might forward my comments and address to him?

K.W., Florida

There just so happens to be another shot of Jim on page 74 of this magazine. He's not naked, but he's flanked by Mack and Jack Radcliffe, so it's still a pretty hot shot. We think Jim is an incredibly sexy guy, but truth be told (and pornographers always tell the truth), his photo shoot really didn't do him justice. We just didn't capture his charisma. For that reason, we won't be running more of those shots in BEAR. We did re-run one of the shots from issue 37 for the 1997 calendar, so you can stare at him for an entire month. Better yet, stop down at the Full Moon Saloon in Orlando and maybe you'll catch Jim in person!

Prepare For Take Off

Just wanted to let you know how much I appreciate your magazine! It's always a pleasure to find that envelope from BCM. It keeps me going (or should I say cumming) for the better part of the month. I thoroughly enjoyed issue 37. All the men were great, especially Marc!

I hope that Luke Mauerman will continue his "Hat's Off" column. I could relate to so much in "Seat Belts, Please." Thanks for including the photo of yourself, Luke. Feel free to show us more anytime!

J.D., New York

Here's a gratuitous bit of naked man for ya. James from Nevada sent us a shot of himself, and while it doesn't have anything to do with the letters, we really liked it here at the shop and wanted to show it to you all. James, come visit sometime.

I just wanted to drop you a line and say thanks. I have enjoyed your photos for quite some time now. Thanks especially for BEAR 37. More to the point, the spread of Marc done by John Rand. If you have contact with Marc, please pass my address along to him. The last photo in the spread really turns me on—that furry back! DAVE

Dave comes to you from Asbury Park, New Jersey. He's 40 years old, 6 feet tall and a solid 240 pounds. Sez leather and uniforms are turn-ons for him, but what really gets him going are cubs. Likes them smaller, hairy, with nice pecs. He's most definitely a top, but he'll let you wrastle him for it. Chances are, he'll still land on top. Aside from sex, working on his yard and his motorcycle keep Dave occupied, but, he says, "I'm pretty much a pervert."

Push the Pedal for Long

by Randy Archibald
illustration by Dade/URSUS

● ● ● feels like a sack of rocks pushin' down between my sweaty shoulder blades... tastes like a foot-long tumbleweed's stuffed down my dry throat... looks like some giant vise has squeezed all the red from my stiff knuckles where I grab the wheel...

I'm dog-tired and beginning to think I've made a big mistake, hurtling across Texas alone in August. So I got rocks in my head. So most people take a plane from Nashville to Los Angeles for a job interview. So most people want a job pronto after they've been discharged from two hitches in the Navy with a C.O. that liked to lick big furry balls too much to let 'em get thrown out. But I done more fucking at sea than in the U.S. of A., so I aim to fix that and have some fun on this trip.

...only fun I'm getting is vibrations from the Jeep churning up my crotch as I propel down the road... cock hard as concrete, thrust up red and swollen from under my cutoffs... fiddle with my knob as I drive and hear myself growl, "Give anything for a hairy crack to bury my face in..." wipe the precum off the crimson slit then trace a finger down my beefy thigh and leave a trail of silver goo across the sweaty hair that covers my legs...

Fact is, my oversized balls find me more fun than my dick. Lots of guys have big dicks. But balls like this? I love my big balls, and so does every other fucker I meet. There's no feeling as good as when my sac is completely distended by heat, then pulled out even more by some hairy fucker's hands. Guys tell me how hot my balls are to touch, and I go wild having them handled.

...pull on the stretchy skin and feel the sweat up under the pouch in the dense, damp hair creeping out from my asscrack... rub my hand up through the sweaty mass of apricot-colored hair on my ample gut and bulky chest... give a nipple a tweak and look down to watch my fat bony bounce, boiling for discharge... move my hand up and rub the scratchy two-weeks' worth of beard driving me crazy in the heat...

West of Abilene, I catch up with this truck in the right lane, and I see the driver watching me in his mirror. He stares at me as we hurtle along. His red Peterbilt flatbed's loaded with lumber and Sheetrock and sacks of concrete. I've seen four or five other Peterbilts loaded the same way in the last hour. Must be some big construction job going up close by.

I get close to him and see his shoulder's covered with black hair. He's wearing a faded blue Western shirt with the sleeves torn off. Big and ugly—usually my type, but he pisses me off 'cause I try to pass him to let traffic through, and he speeds up so's I can't shoot by. I try to drop behind, and he slows down. "Idiot, you ain't gonna see it." I say out loud and pull my shirt from the other seat to hide my dick. My ruby-red monolith loses its starch and flops down inside my thigh. I wanna lose the asshole and I'm hungry, so I take the next exit and get my butt to the nearest restaurant.

...no shirt, no shoes, no service...

They don't give a shit about jeans whacked off so short they hardly cover a big, floppy, extended dick. Wear my workboots. Pull on my muscle shirt. Muscle shirt's a good name for it or me. My dick wasn't all that got exercised in the Navy. I flex my brawny hairy pecs and biceps and try to relax after gripping the wheel for three hours nonstop.

Eatery's got a counter, three sides extended out into the room. I go to the far side so's I can watch the door in case some sexy fucker comes in. I tuck my dick straight up inside my shorts so's it can't come flopping out and cause trouble. It's mid-afternoon and no one's around, but you never know I order the special—a slab of chicken fried steak "and all the fixins."

I'm fixing to find the john for a long piss while I wait for my food, and a trucker comes in. Tall fucker, not too broad but obviously muscle-packed, wearing a Stetson and one of them thin rayon Western shirts—red-and-black plaid—unbuttoned down to the Harley buckle on the belt of his Wranglers. I don't notice much about him besides the fact that he's got a mustache, 'cause my eyes drop to his jeans—stretched around a perfect ass and so tight around his thighs, I can't figure how he walks. I usually like beefier men, but I feel my dick squirm around. He's that sexy.

The place is empty, but he comes around and sits right next to me. He tosses his manifest book on the counter and says to the kid behind the counter, "The usual, Ron." He reaches up to take off his Stetson, and I get that dry tumbleweed-scratchy feeling in my throat because his shirt falls open, and I shoot a look at the thick, brown hair spreading from his collarbone to his navel. I get ready to fire another look because I feel my nuts churning, and I'm thinking about some other kind of meat than chicken fried steak.

"Pretty proud of them nuts, ain't you?"

...gotta be sure my dick don't start to extend itself and creep out from the leg of my culottes...

I look down and don't see my pink knob, but—

...shit!

My bull balls are flopped loose over the edge of the stool in plain sight. Don't know how they escaped. Don't know why I didn't feel them. Don't know how to tuck them back inside without the trucker noticing. I look up and see he's noticed.

...ok...

He takes a long, slow stare at my crotch.

...feels like I'm turning cherry-red all over—not from embarrassment, but from the turn-on...

"Oops, sorry," I mutter and pull my knees together to hide my balls. Fire shoots from my knee up to my lungs when he sticks one hand down under the counter and pulls my leg back toward him. He don't say a thing. Just touches his forehead in a kind of salute and nods. My smooth bag spreads out on the seat, and the squishy-firm joy boilers, big as golf balls, roll around inside. I cup my hand up under the stretchy skin, and the eggs jump.

...feel my dick pushing up inside the denim... it's bent back, all doubled up and beginning to hurt like hell... I wanna let it loose but don't dare... I could hide my nut bag if someone walked by, but I'd be up shit-creek if my boner was shooting up... this is too weird... a hairy trucker and me sitting side by side eating lunch as if everything is normal, but I got my balls extended over the stool, and he don't want me to do anything about it so's he can sit there and look at my scrot and rub his bulging crotch...

I'm so hot I can't eat anything. I watch him rub the napkin he's tucked over his knee. I try to figure out how much of the fold pushing up at his crotch is his slab and how much is denim. And I try to make a plan for what's next.

"Check, please," I say to Ron. "Hey, where's the john?" I ask him as I get up. I know it's as obvious as hell, but what the fuck can I do?

"I'll take you there," the trucker says, then reaches over and pushes down on my sweaty thigh. "Have some more coffee and relax." So I sit and slurp coffee, and he takes forever to finish his lunch.

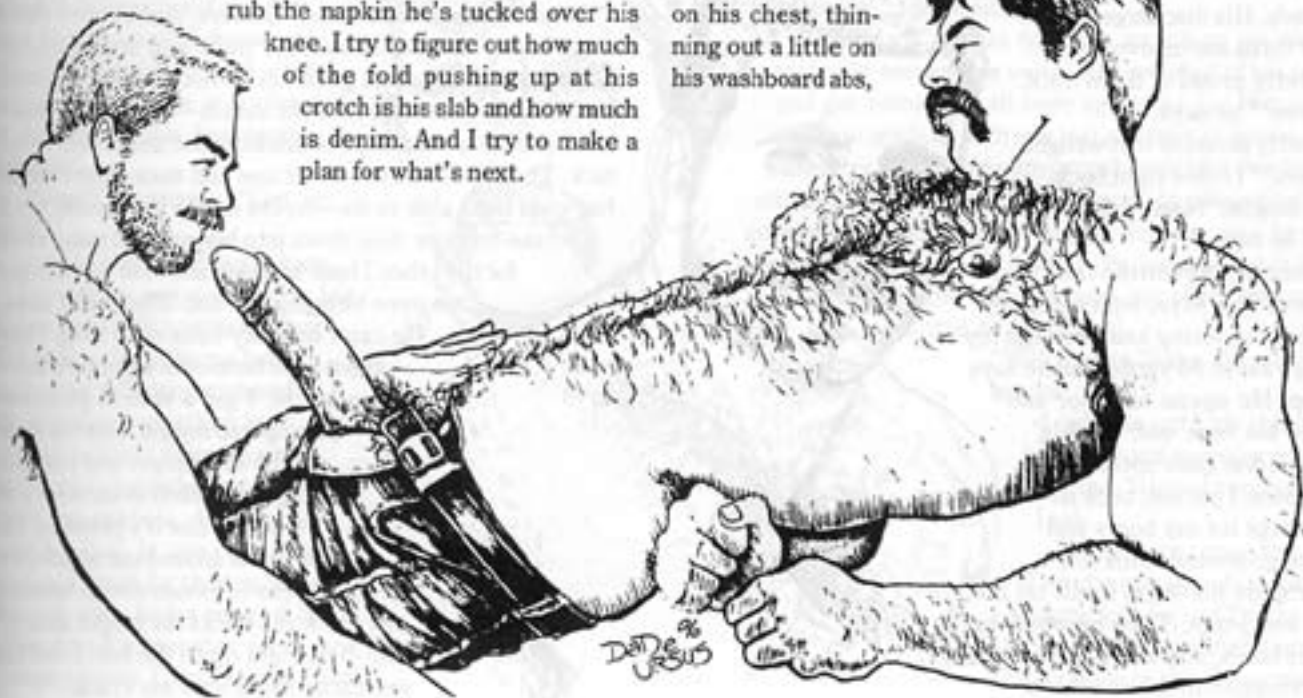

...relax, like hell... I'm going out of my mind... besides, I gotta piss real bad...

"Not bad, as usual," the trucker says to Ron. "Thanks." He swings a long, skinny leg over his stool then shrugs toward the door and goes out. I turn around on my stool and lurch to my feet and don't even try to hide what's swinging between my legs. I shoot out the door and get the full force of the sun in my eyes as I look around for the trucker.

...don't see him, and I'm mad as hell... I've been had... what a fool!

When my eyes adjust to the sun, I spot a red Peterbilt with a load of Sheetrock parked next to my Jeep. And it looks like a Stetson's been set down on the hardtop of my Jeep, so I charge around to the other side of my car. He's leaning against it so his hat looks like it's perched on top. His face is chiseled square, like from granite. Handsome. Mustache, thick and wider than his mouth. Eyes deep-blue against a five-o'clock-shadow dark as a beard. Shirt unbuttoned all the way. Harley buckle and Wrangler fly undone. His balls, big but not as huge as mine, rest at the V of his zipper. A monster dick extends out over the balls then flops down like a spigot, the end squared off by a thick, loose, dangling foreskin.

And hair. Thick on his chest, thinning out a little on his washboard abs,

Spreads my crack and sticks his tongue and then bushing up like a thick patch of brown prairie-grass around that huge cock.

"Name's Joe," he says. He wraps his hand around his balls and squeezes, so his dick kind of flops up and down in the breeze. "Need the john, huh?" he says.

"Yeah, man. Drove three hours without stopping." I hear my voice rumble. "I'm Mike."

"I know a private pisser, if you wanna drive. But I can't take my rig there," he says.

...curious and a little nervous... what's he have in mind?... but that hairy body and that dick... I want it and I'll do whatever it takes...

"Sure," I say. "Get in."

"Drive out there." He points to a dirt trail heading into the open country.

"You sure 'bout this? Who owns it?"

"It's OK. I know the place." He rubs his fist up and down his dick, pulling that long, flabby foreskin back and forth over the head. I just about drop a load. "There's no problem," he says.

...yeah, no problem for you...

I head out into the flat country.

"Get outta them fuckin' shorts," he says.

I don't even think, just rip open the cutoffs, raise my butt a little, and let him yank them to the floor. I spread my legs, and my dick shoots up hard. I look over and he's pulled his jeans down to his knees. His monster has elongated more but still isn't hard. So fat he can barely get his hand around it. That fuckin' dry tumbleweed is back in my throat.

He reaches over and plays with my balls with one hand, and, with the other, grabs my muscle shirt and rips it to shreds. His discharge of manpower turns me on even more.

"Pretty proud of them nuts, ain't you?" he says.

"Pretty proud of that wanger, ain't you?" I come right back.

He laughs. "Nasty fucker, ain't you?" he says.

I come to a fork in the trail. "Go that way," he says, squeezing my right ball, shooting heat through my gut. I go about 30 yards, and he says to stop. He opens his door and swings his legs out. Lookin' around, I don't see nothin' but open space. I get out, buck naked except for my boots and hat, and go around to his side. He extends his legs. I pull off his boots and jeans. Then he steps back into his boots, and we're both standing there stripped in the sunshine.

"Here's the john," he says.

I'm too hard to piss, but he steps toward me and lets loose. A blast of yellow liquid drenches my dick and balls. I bend over to take some down my throat and let it splash all over me. My dick loses its starch in the warmth, and my balls drop to their lowest. Together, the sun and liquid-gold make my nutsac stretch halfway to my knees. I begin to piss. He steps in front of me so my salty projectile douses his monster meat, and he gets completely hard.

His dick swells up to the obelisk I'd imagined: a thick brownish-red knob with a shaft thickening back to his groin—like the Washington Monument. I keep pissing, and he gets harder then begins to slide his hand up and down his megalith in the stream.

By the time I've forced every drop from my bladder, my dick is hard as a rock. Noticeably shorter than his, but the head's just as thick. He backs up to the hood of the Jeep and flops back on his elbows with his legs apart, his whopper lurching up and down in the sun.

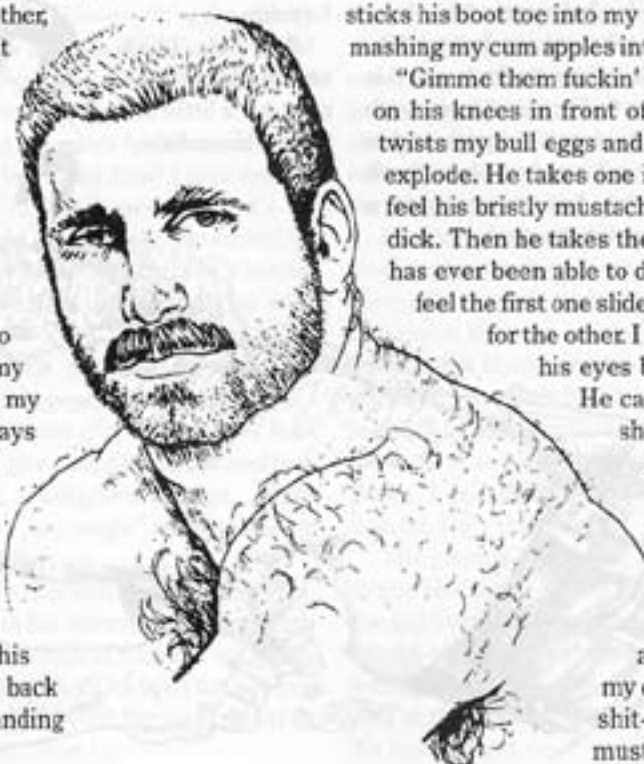

I'm thinking about how to attack that thing, lunge full-front, or work around the base then slurp my way to the head. "Gotta have it, Joe," I growl. I drop to my knees and push my tongue into the dense hair under his balls and taste his sweat and my piss, salty and hot. I lick the rank growth and reach up to pump his throbbing fuck handle. I don't know what's turning me on more, the size of that bone or the taste of my own piss. I pump him with one hand and massage my scrotum with the other, my legs spread so far apart my man-globes almost flop in the dirt.

Without warning, he drags one leg up under my groin and sticks his boot toe into my wide-spread asscrack. He lifts up, mashing my cum apples into my crotch and raising me up.

"Gimme them fuckin' balls," he says, and he goes down on his knees in front of me. He pulls and stretches and twists my bull eggs and gets 'em so hot I think I'm gonna explode. He takes one into his mouth—sucks it in until I feel his bristly mustache scratching the underside of my dick. Then he takes the other one and does what no man has ever been able to do—forces it into his mouth, too. I feel the first one slide down into his gullet to make room for the other. I hear him gag, and look down to see his eyes bugging out and filling with tears.

He can't hold my balls very long. They shoot from his mouth like a cork out of a bottle. I get a stab of pleasure up into my gut from the force of the discharge, and my dick engorges itself even more and stands up like it's petrified. He hurls me around and whacks my asscheeks to loosen me up. Spreads my crack and sticks his tongue into my shit-hole right up to the hilt. I feel his mustache sandpaper my crack.

into my shit-hole right up to the hilt.

"Fuck me, man," I hear the words shoot from my throat, and I know what I want is that obelisk hurtling in and out of my ass making my balls flop back and forth as he pumps his hairy body into my bearish butt.

Joe withdraws his face from my hole for air. "I'm gonna fuck you, all right, but I wanna watch your balls." He shoots around to the back of the Jeep, flops open the tail gate, puts the back seat down, crawls in, and lays on his back with his knees bent in the air. His slab of sex-muscle stands straight up from his mat of crotch hair halfway to his knees. I bend over and stick my tongue up under his balls, and he spreads his cheeks. I stick my head between his legs and raise his butt far enough to work my tongue into his fur-covered crack. He squirms and thrusts his ass into my face. His brutish voice rumbles from deep in his pelted chest, "Rub my ass raw with them whiskers while you slather up my asshole. Turn me on to fuck you."

...doing the best I can, tasting the musky mansmell of Joe's pink hole and licking his sweat and my piss off the thick hair of his crack... work his ass with my face and reach around to slide my hand up and down his pole... feel the thick foreskin elongate when I get to the base, then bunch up when my hand gets to the knob... he's cozin' so much precum, it feels like I've slathered it with lube... feel the bulging veins, my palm sliding up the rock-hard side and my fingers pressing into the squishy underside... gotta swallow that monster...

I raise up and take the knob in my mouth. I can tell he wants me to wrap my throat around his slab, 'cause he takes hold of me and pushes.

...feels like a sack of rocks on my sweaty shoulders... tastes like a locker-room of sweat and piss and precum stuffed down my throat... sounds like a vise stretching wide open in my jaws to get around that humongous manmeat...

"Stop!" he grunts. "Get up here."

...what I been waiting to hear...

I climb up and swing one leg across Joe's belly to straddle him face to face. He pulls my balls out to their full elongation and mashes them together, hard enough to shoot me with excitement, but gentle enough to relax my asshole. I rock back over his dick. In one continuous motion, I reach for the toy box under the seat, find a tube of lube, slather up his monster meat, and grease my hole. I propel myself back and impale my puckerhole on his monument and slowly slide down until I'm open wide, and his thick pubic bush is scratching my asscrack. A shudder shoots through my body, and I feel Joe thrust his hips upward. The hefty base of his cock stretches my butt hole and massages my joy gland; I feel the knob of his club pressing into my insides, nine inches up from my sphincter.

...grip the head with the vise of my love muscle when I get to the top, then push myself down to his sweaty groin... open myself to take his big ol' pole... up and down, smoother and easier... hotter with each lunge...

My ballsac hangs as long as his cock, and my nuts swing back and forth over his abs. Joe twists and wrings my balls, and the blunt animal ache drives me headlong toward shooting my load.

...ready to explode both from his manipulation and from the force of that monster dick thrusting to the top of my shitcute...

The heat of the fuck, combined with the sun blasting down on us, drenches us in sweat. I flatten my hands against Joe's chest and grab the hair on his pecs to keep from sliding off. He takes one hand from my nutsac and pinches my nipples and pulls my chest hair. I rock back and forth on his cock, then begin to shudder and feel my nuts churning up to discharge their man-goo.

...can't wait any longer...

My jumbo balls pull up toward my crotch, and Joe growls, "Let 'em go, man. Fire away!" I feel the scum gather itself at the base of my dick; it discharges in a trajectory that lands on his chin and splatters all the way back to his abs. My balls ache, and my cumtube burns—my sphincter grabs Joe's cock, and I collapse onto his belly in a slime of sweat and jizz.

"Lemme see you lick up your cum while I fill your ass with mine," Joe grunts.

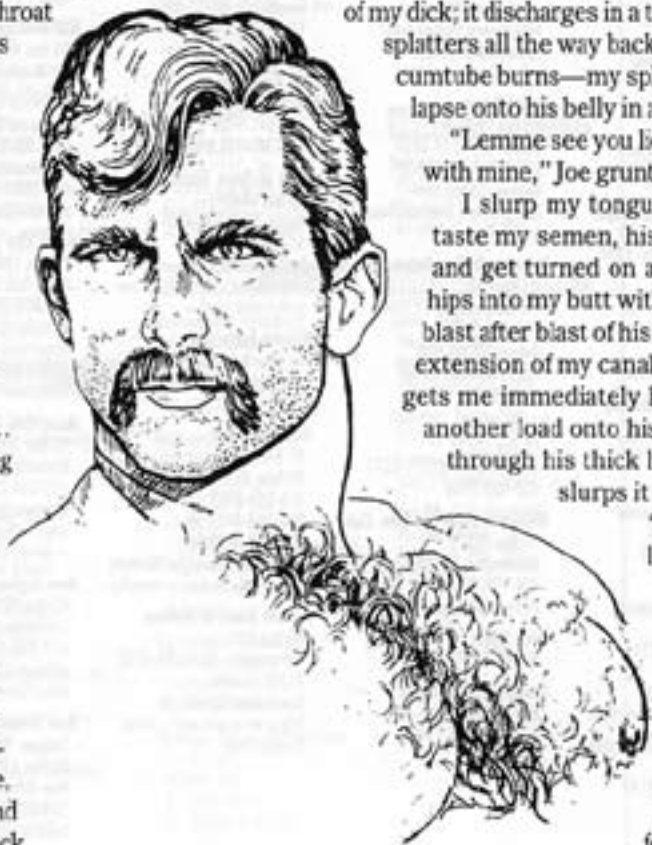

I slurp my tongue from his mouth to his navel. I taste my semen, his sweat, the residue of his piss—and get turned on all over again. As Joe thrusts his hips into my butt with one last shudder of desire, I feel blast after blast of his cum propel itself into the deepest extension of my canal. The propulsion of his discharge gets me immediately hard again, and I'm able to shoot another load onto his hairy belly. Joe traces his finger through his thick hair, scoops my silver goo up and slurps it off his hand.

"Welcome to Texas, slimeball," he laughs.

I collapse onto his chest with his still-hard monster meat inside me. "How'd you find me?" I ask.

"The horn, man, the horn."

Twenty construction drivers looking for you, and I'm the lucky fucker. No one pushes the pedal for long alone on this Texas road." ☐

This Could Get Ugly

Made a trip to Washington, D.C., recently. Well, Crusher had to go to a work-related conference, and I decided to tag along—and along the way, issues concerning identity and influence thrust their portentous selves at us with alarming speed.

OK, some stuff had been percolating for a while. Now that I'm finally in that info-super-express-checkout-line thing, one of the first things I checked out was the bear stuff. Hoo-boy. I was unaware that I had been "brainwashed" into thinking I was ugly because I didn't fit a "standard set by gay media." I was unaware that others had been "brainwashed into thinking they are sick because they are attracted to people who do not fit the standard set by gay media." I found out a bear "is usually defined as a large, hairy or bearded, masculine man."

Lions and tigers and am I a bear, oh my. I'm clean-shaven. My chest and belly are hairy. I'm 34, 6 feet 2 inches tall, and 190 pounds. Too small? Too big? Too young? Fortunately, I needn't worry, because I'm a victim. Brainwashed. I don't need to think for myself, because someone else has done that for me.

OK, time to grind 'em. Coming out is a very liberating experience. When you come out, you essentially say, "This world lies about gay people." And while it's pleasant to think that one's newfound gay community does not lie about gay people, the truth is, it does. Hype is hype, no matter where it comes from. Labels are hype. All advertising, all media hype is essentially a lie. If you believe 'em, it's yer own damn fault.

Some cabal didn't decide the only images valid for use in gay smut were of men barely 18, smooth and clean-shaven. But they were the only images thought marketable. When the magazine you're holding in your hands appeared, it was virtually the first time since the Gage Brothers that anyone had put everyday, ordinary, traditionally masculine men in gay smut. No market was created; it was always there. The mag didn't define anything that didn't already exist. Much like sweaty armpits existed long before deodorant companies came along and tried to shame the known universe into masking them.

Idealizing or focusing solely on differences tends to encourage egoism, arrogance and alienation. Saying it's a black or gay or whatever thing and that I "wouldn't understand" denies me not only the ability to empathize, but the desire to do so as well. It legitimizes a form of bias. And it allows a group to take control of all oppression, everywhere because it allows a group to say, "Nobody is as oppressed as us." This ownership can be asserted in different ways. One is to make a cult of being a victim; getting "brainwashed" for example, but there are others. Some of which can get way out of hand real easy.

In D.C., we visited the United States Holocaust Museum, where I learned some fascinating things about World War II, like the Holocaust was primarily a Jewish experience, that the persecution of homosexuals was more or less an afterthought of the Nazi regime, and World War II had a happy ending because everybody was liberated from the death camps.

Estimates state that between a quarter to a half-million gay people died in the camps. The exact figure isn't known because while everyone else was getting liberated, the Allies retained Paragraph 175a—the Nazi-revised law outlawing homosexuality—as a functioning law thereby keeping homosexuals imprisoned. The Museum neglects to mention this.

In the Holocaust Museum, there is no mention of the sacking of Magnus Hirschfeld's Institute for Sexual Science, an organization which actively supported repealing anti-gay laws, though much is made of a massive book-burning held in conjunction with the sacking. There is no mention of the anti-gay purge of the SA or its leader, Ernst Röhm's, homosexuality. While there is mention made of the Nuremberg laws as part of systematic Jewish persecution, there's no mention made of Paragraph 175, the anti-gay law, as part of systematic gay persecution. There is no mention made of the Nazi revision of Paragraph 175, made on the anniversary of the above-mentioned anti-gay purge. There is no mention made of the forced castration of countless gay men.

The story being told is incomplete. The impression is given that the Holocaust is solely about a bunch of Jews getting offed, and it's not. The Holocaust is about a paranoid totalitarian regime in power.

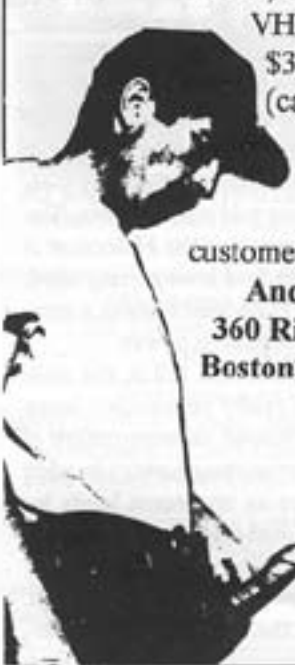

To hear the museum tell it, the only ones the Nazis really persecuted were Jews. This is a biased representation of history. Misrepresenting history in such esteemed places as museums lends legitimacy. It's not just a matter of numbers, either. Of the 11 million who perished, only 6 million were Jews. That's little over half. To suggest that the Holocaust was overwhelmingly concerned with one group, and one group only, when facts tell otherwise suggests that a party line—an approved ideology—has been followed. You end up with The Holocaust™.

Well, no one owns oppression. No one can claim or assign ownership of the Holocaust. No one's oppression is worse than anyone else's. All of it is bad and all of it is wrong. Atrocities come and atrocities go, but oppression is constant. It scares me to think that while the Holocaust Museum exists to counter revisionist history, it simultaneously engages in it. Scarier still is to think that, in the United States, there are currently uncomfortable parallels with Nazi Germany. We have fear of revolution (the so-called "culture war"), private militias centered around racist or nationalist ideals, economic uncertainty and rampant unemployment, though the closest we have to the Nazi party are certain Republicans and Luddites.

Do labels govern identity? No. Reducing who I am to a label is preposterous, laden with too many assumptions. You—yeah, you—reading this column. You're not a bear. Neither are you a man. You're both and more, which is something I find wondrous. B

YOUR BASIC BEAR AD

Deadline for BEAR 40 ads is September 4. (Yeah, I know that doesn't leave you much time.) Deadline for BEAR 41 ads (which comes out in December) is November 5.

1. Text. Talk about yourself and be real clear as to whom you'd like to meet. Avoid negativity shit, like "no fats, feds or Lithuanians." It doesn't work and we'll probably change it anyway.

2. Names. We can't run ads addressed to Occupant or Boxholder. Use your initials or a name your postal carrier knows.

3. Phone Numbers. We won't print 'em.

4. Photo Ads. We'll run a shot of your face or dick—but only once. Your photo must have a signed model release (see "Show Yourself In BEAR," page 51) AND a photocopy of your picture ID. Don't bother sending us photos without this stuff. We can't legally print 'em. Each photo sent to BEAR must be signed with your name and phone number on the back. Photos are not returnable.

5. BEAR Postal Box Numbers. If you wish, we'll assign a BEAR Postal Box Number to your ad, collect your responses and forward them to your address. A word to the wise: Your own address will get you more responses. For U.S. subscribers only. Free to BEAR Buddies, $5 to everyone else.

6. Voicemail Box Codes. We assign a voicemail box to every ad. Guys can leave phone messages in your box after reading your ad, and only you can retrieve them. Cost is $1.98 per minute for both parties. Full details are on page 29.

7. Common Courtesy. If a guy gets in touch with you, write back. Even if it's just to say "no thanks," he deserves to know you got his message.

8. Cost and Duration. Personal ads are free if you're a BEAR Buddy. Otherwise, they're 25¢ a word, per issue. Wanna discontinue your ad? Write in, and we'll pull it. You will have to pay to have a pulled ad put back in, though.

9. Ad Changes. It's cool, but it'll cost you 5 bucks, and must be in writing. Hint: You'll get more responses by rewriting your ad from time to time.

10. Edits. We reserve the right to edit personals for editorial consistency and clarity. We also reserve the right to refuse any ad.

The form for writing your ad and figuring the cost is on page 29 (turn the page).

VOICEMAIL EXPLAINED

Credit card holders call 1-800-347-BEAR. To charge the call to your home phone, dial 1-900-HOT-BEAR. Cost for both lines is $1.98 a minute.

Our BEAR Voicemail system is designed to give you immediate access to new friends, true love, or just good fuck. It works. Record your own personal greeting, answer someone else's ad, pick up your messages, or talk to whoever is jacking off on the line.

1. If you have an ad in BEAR...

When dialing in for the first time, you must already have your passcode from us. We will mail you this code before the issue of BEAR in which your ad first appears hits the stands. Write us here at the shop if you don't receive your code for some reason.

2. To record an outgoing message to correspond to your ad in BEAR or to collect your messages...

Once at the Voicemail Main Menu, immediately hit the star key. The system will tell you that you are picking up your mail and ask you to enter your four-digit mailbox number. Don't let this confuse you. Most of our mailbox numbers are five digits in length and, yeah, we're doing our best to change the recording. Go ahead and check for your mail. The system will then give you four options. Choose option #3 to record an outgoing announcement to match your ad. This way, guys will be able to hear the voice that's attached to your hot ad. Messages will stay in the system for two weeks.

Remember, if you are advertising in BEAR you automatically have a Bear Voicemail Box. However, our 900 system allows you to set up additional boxes if you want. This can be done by choosing command #3 from the main menu, which is different from option #3 that appears at the message retrieval area.

Confused yet? Yeah, it's a problem, and we're doing our best to make it easier. We've got someone working on it, and pretty soon it should be a lot easier. In the meantime, you can call Tom Swift at 1-800-234-3877 and he can answer your questions. Cut us a little slack. In return, we promise to fix this shit ASAP.

Euro Bear

European Views

Cologne Connection

There are bears all over Europe. You will find them cuddling in the snow in Scandinavia, in the sun in Italy, or in a German forest. The Bavarian bear might be different from the Italian one, but they often share the same interests: Hairy chests, perhaps a beer belly... and more. At this time, I'd like to tell you a story about a very "international bear." His name is Arno, and he is one of the owners of the bar Zipp's in Cologne, Germany. He met his American friend Tom through this magazine.

I recently met Arno and Tom at Zipp's, and between a couple of K=F6lsch beers (that's the name of the local beer in Cologne), they shared their story:

"Toward the end of 1992, I bought my first issue of BEAR in one of our gay bookstores in Germany," Arno tells me. "I immediately checked the ads, and as far as I remember, it was only one ad that really caught my attention at once. It was different from the other ones, because it had no sexual content. For the first time in my whole life, I answered an ad. I even enclosed a photo, but I made sure that my face was not visible. I did not want to be fully exposed at once."

"I received a reply from Tom immediately. Tom wrote he is American, living in Italy. He had been to Germany a couple of times, and he also planned to go to Cologne for Carnival [Mardi Gras] 1993. He and his friend were looking for a place to stay, but I couldn't accommodate them because I already had some other guests, but I offered my office to sleep.

"I never heard from the guy again. Then, Carnival arrived, and I went to a bear party, held by the Cologne Men with Beards.... I immediately saw a big man with a beard. He was standing in the middle of the bar with his friend. After I had been cruising around for about two hours, Mr. Bear '93 was elected. Everybody went to the dance floor, and I finally made my decision. I wanted to talk to this man. 'Are you American?' were the first words I said. 'Yes,' he replied. I had this special feeling that this could be my Tom the American from Italy as I asked him where he was from, and he answered, 'Naples.' He soon after wanted to know if I was Arno, and this time I said, 'Yes.'"

"These were our first words. We talked a bit, but Tom soon after left with his friend. I went home too, and I could hardly sleep that night. Why didn't I make any appointment with him? The next evening, I walked through every bar in Cologne until I found him. He told me that his friend had made some problems. This time we made sure to make a date. We met on Rose Monday, one of the highlights of Cologne's Mardi Gras. We met in my office and finally had wonderful sex with each other. Of course we exchanged addresses, then we went to the other bars where Tom's friend and other friends were waiting. We did not leave each other a minute. We both felt that we belong together. Shortly before midnight, Tom said it was time to say goodbye. I started to cry.... I had finally met the man of my dreams, but he had to go. He left, and I was standing there alone.

"Two months went by. I did not hear anything from Tom, and I lost about 20 pounds of weight. Then, one morning in my office, I found a fax from Tom. He had the same feelings for me-and he wanted to see me again. We decided to meet in Frankfurt.

"This time we spent almost the whole weekend in bed. After these great days, we knew we belong together-we had to stay together. As a German, it was difficult for me to get the American green card and I had just opened up my own business. Then, we got the possibility to buy the bar Zipp's in Cologne. It was my favorite bar anyway.

"Everything turned into a happy end: Tom came to Germany, and, since 1995, we live together..."

And this "beary" tale all started in BEAR with an ad, Arno says and smiles. He hands out a couple of beers again. His friend is standing at another side of the bar, smiling.

Below is a photo of Arno and Tom. If you want to see them live, just drop in at Zipp's, located at Hohe Pforte 13-17, in downtown Cologne, Germany. You will see them and a lot of other bears there almost every evening. ☺

You can reach Thomas Schwartz in Germany for comments and requests by fax at 0011-49-221-240-36-07, or by e-mail via Internet at schwartz@dom.de, or write c/o BEAR.

Bear Club Japan

Japanese bears? That statement seems to inspire the quizzical-dog look whenever we mention Tokyo's Bear Club Japan. But you better believe it, because they have 200 members, mostly from the Tokyo area. A few of the guys are from surrounding Asian countries, and there are even five American members. Akira Nakazawa, director of the club, stopped by the shop over Memorial Day weekend to say hello and make a change to his BEAR club listing. That's Akira on the left with some guy who edits a magazine.

SM Coach Fantasies

Mike from Pennsylvania sent us this clip from the Daily Collegian. Didn't know you could say these things in a newspaper.

Ouch!!!!
Lindeman, Indiana's 7-foot center, is not known for his offensive exploits. But in the Hoosiers 72-54 defeat of Penn State last Wednesday in Bloomington, Lindeman exploded for 12 key points and grabbed 11 rebounds.
Knight, his coach, said getting Lindeman to play well involves a combination of things, but what exactly did it take last week before the battle against the Lions?
"We put his balls in a vice," the sarcastic Knight said. "I twisted it. We stuck a red-hot poker up his ass, and we poured water down his mouth. And I told him if he promised to play well, we'd quit all that."

A Table with a View

This letter's from a nationally syndicated advice column. Some people just don't get it.

I was interested in the letters that appeared in your column about the proper (and improper) way to dress when eating in a restaurant.

I am not saying that guys should wear tuxedos and cuff links when they go to McDonald's, but unless you have faced the hairy armpits of a jock when dining out, you have no idea what real nausea is.

Please tell those slobes to show some consideration for others by carrying a sport shirt in the car for such occasions. Houston is a particularly offensive city in this regard. I know because for 18 years I put up with the slobes. Too bad there's so little class there. I haven't seen one hairy armpit in a restaurant since I moved to Baltimore. — J.R.

Dear J.R.: Your complaint leaves me baffled. Have you been eating for 18 years in truck stops? I have been to Houston many times and have yet to encounter a single hairy armpit in a restaurant.

Gay Olympian: The Life and Death of Dr. Tom Waddell

by Tom Waddell and Dick Schaap

forward by Greg Louganis

Alfred A. Knoff, Inc., $23

Gays have built safe networks and environments to promote and protect each other, which is how the Gay Games were born. The Gay Games are a wonderful and successful event that give gay men and lesbians a platform on which to rise above social stigmas. However, this kind of separatism can also be viewed as divisive, separating "us" from "them," as what protects us often does. After reading Gay Olympian: The Life and Death of Tom Waddell, I completely understand the attraction to creating the Gay Games for all the Tom Waddells of the world and giving them a place to test their mettle without hiding behind it, as Waddell did.

Gay Olympian is a well-played volley between two poignant tales. One is the story of Waddell's life, written by Dick Schaap. Schaap fell under Waddell's spell doing a piece for 20/20 in 1986 and has detailed Waddell's life in a loving eulogy, beautifully honest and honestly gay—not that Waddell, himself, always was. "One of Tom's favorite theories," Schaap writes, "was that sexuality is a spectrum, not either/or, and that everyone is situated somewhere along the line; very few people are at one end or the other." The other side of this biography comes from the pages of Waddell's journal to his daughter, Jessica, before and after her birth. This period in his life was so awesome a whirlwind that documenting it for her was probably the only way he could retain it for himself. Played against each other, the two views of the man give a no more rounded picture than actually being Tom Waddell, although the time lines only cross briefly toward the end.

There are few heroes in gay culture, but Waddell certainly fits the title. A doctor, Olympian, and father, he was a friend to everyone he met, straight or gay. He loved men and women equally throughout his life, believed firmly in social and medical justice for all, and always seemed to know that having a child would be the culmination of his life's work, not healing thousands or being the sixth greatest decathlete in the 1968

Olympics. What boosted my image of Waddell after reading Gay Olympian is the tremendous amount of fear, self-doubt, and depression that plagued his soul, yet did nothing but push him harder toward bettering the best in himself. Even as pneumocystis was beating down on him, his goals and purposes were great: "Am I going to put my head under the sheets and just scream and yell and cry?" he wrote. "No, I can't do that... crying is a wonderful way to get rid of toxins, and then you have to say, 'OK, now let's get on with what I think is real.' And what is real is that there are still things to be said, things to be done, things that I can teach."

Now that Atlanta is recovering from the spectacle of the Olympics, it seems right to focus on 1998 when the fifth incarnation of Waddell's vision will take place in Amsterdam. However, there is a crucial lesson to be taken from Gay Olympian: The Life and Death of Tom Waddell to Europe in 1998 and beyond: Although there is security in the Gay Games, it is really only for the insecure, who many gays and lesbians, by conditioning, are. Real barriers of homophobia are broken in the pages of Gay Olympian, the story of a man who loved everyone who could love, and felt for those who couldn't. Honoring his legacy is our challenge—to see if we can love, starting with ourselves.

Superfag

by Daniel Curzon

IGNA Books, $9.95

I picked up Superfag thinking, "This looks like fun." What I got was a vicious satire devouring every fact of gay culture and spitting it out in a dizzying read, full of laughter and sadness.

Daniel Curzon has slaughtered all our sacred cows and served them to us in a fast and furious tale only the righteous would find tasteless and bitter.

Picture this: God (a snappy sodomizer only Patrick Stewart could play) entrusts his only son, Superfag (can RuPaul play Homer Simpson in Hulk Hogan's body?), with the do-or-die mission of destroying homophobia on Earth. Inundated with hatred and ignorance, he is punished at every turn for defending same-gender love and sex. Our hero fights an uphill battle against his father's subjects to educate and save them from themselves. Through losses and triumphs, Superfag moves faster than a speed-freak stenographer, stirring a breeze from the quick-moving pages.

A few turbulent social topics are set aflame by Curzon's biting vision of man's history, only to be squelched by the entirely queer scenario. Faster than a speeding hand-job, able to leap tall beehives in a single bound, Superfag uses the "Can't we all just get along?" routine to get God's gift to man into crazy situations with satirical solutions. If you ride the bus to work, this book will keep you company for a couple of days. Just make sure to protect the cover from stray eyes or you might find the bold title drafting you into Superfagdom, too. G

BRIAN

Brian and J.D. headed off to a nature trail last summer to snap these dirty pictures. It was Texas-style hot that day—the sweat was flowin' and the bugs were biting. Sure glad they stuck it out, 'cause when they handed us the results, we got a little wet ourselves. Had the chance to hook up with Brian at the Texas Bear Round-Up in Dallas this year. He tells us that he spent four years in the Navy, likes tinkering with old cars and watching wrestling. It gets his shorts all lumpy to see those Cro-Magnon guys with big thick necks and arms. He kept it vague when it came the specifics of his preferences, except to say that, "The sky's the limit."

Life Lessons
by Luke

Riding Bareback on a Trojan Horse

It's not like anything we've known so far. The world keeps on moving. We still have running water, Star Trek is still on TV, the economy's pretty good, and we can take vacations in Palm Springs. Most of the time, it doesn't feel like we're suffering the worst domestic devastation since the Civil War. But we are. Every day, we face a strange and painful death. And, in too many cases, our families and straight friends look the other way.

Fun, huh? We really know how to party. No wonder we Hom-Sexshalls find solace in AbFab's rich, drunken English bitches and all those pretty rainbow-flag colors.

Jesus, we've got enough risk-management techniques and safe-sex guidelines to gag a maggot. I personally have enough free condoms in my drawer to melt into a 1970s dinette set. And they're still peddling them down on Castro Street. It ain't working.

I used to believe we're all trying to stay alive here. We're not. About the time that I—a college graduate and ostensibly HIV-negative person—did knowingly shove an HIV-positive dick up my butt without a condom, I realized how easy it was to do. How good it felt. How many excuses there can be to "try it just this once." Thing is, a year later, I was going for broke. In 1995, I had blatantly unsafe sex with nearly a dozen men here in San Francisco.

Totally dumb and deranged? I was beginning to think so. Then I learned I'm not alone. People smarter and saner than me (imagine!) have also been going out and getting real stupid. HIV is spreading faster again, after a few years of slowing down. So what's going on?

We're over it. Some HIV-negative guys withdraw; they refuse to get involved with HIV-positive men, and practically won't leave the house without a latex barrier. Others walk the middle line, stay safe, date and try to hold on. For them, the losses are piling up. My theory is that people don't stay in the middle forever. Because a big chunk of HIV-negative gay men are just plain giving up. It's easier to go with the flow—and a helluva lot more fun. It's a path of least resistance, and there's plenty of company along the way.

AIDS turned 15 this past June (it's a Gemini—no fuckin' wonder they can't track it down). Everyone knows you're supposed to put a condom on it. That should've fixed everything. But it didn't, did it? Safe sex sucks, and everyone knows it—they're just too polite to say. HIV-positive men's dicks taste just fine (my personal theory that HIV-positive men have a saltier taste has, through many informal trials, proved false), and the real, honest-to-gawd naked feel of the inside of a man's butt is too cool for words.

So, in the first place, we're human. Clinical information about something we won't see or feel for years just doesn't cut it when you got a hairy 220-pounder with a monstrous weenie breathing down on you. "I'm negative, so don't sweat it. Lemme slide this big ol' dick into your hole, and I'll fuck ya raw. It's OK."

You can talk someone into unsafe sex in 10 seconds or less.

Then there's just plain guilt for being healthy while other's aren't. Easy. Makes you feel like shit.

Now here's where it gets really twisted: In a city like San Francisco, where most gay men are positive, you get inundated with the HIV-positive way of life. All the benefits, systems, services and moneys are focused on people with HIV. And they damn well should be. Subsequently, if you wind up with HIV, you have to make some sort of peace and live with it. You pick up and keep going the best you can, even when it hurts. San Francisco's full of gorgeous, gym-going, vibrant HIV-positive men. You hear things like: "Sooner or later, everyone'll have HIV, and it'll be a treatable chronic condition... for a mere $3,200 a month," "It's just one more step along the way," "I'm not convinced that HIV even causes AIDS—I think it's a conspiracy."

This rationale that keeps some men going is the very same rationale that others can use to end it all for themselves and join the club. This is why the rates are climbing.

I once told a guy that I was putting myself at risk for HIV. He pretty much snapped back, saying, "Well, it isn't that big a deal. You'd still live a good 20 or 30 years after seroconversion." He retired two months later, "for health reasons." He was a psychiatrist. Now, you wanna tell me we don't have a problem here?

So it's no wonder that gay kids coming out today might think there's not much reason to stay alive. A death sentence was cast back in 1981. Guys born that year are driving cars already and'll be in the bars before long. It's our responsibility, whether we're negative or positive, to teach them that they don't have to go down with the ship.

HIV-negative support groups have cropped up to keep gay men negative. This really pisses some people off. It sounds whiny and callous at first. But are HIV-negative men supposed to simply shut up and act normal? Show me a human that can be all strong and "okaaaay" at a time like this without turning the wrong cheek from time to time. People act out their denial, guilt, fear and sorrow in some damn crazy ways. It's time to recognize this and to arm ourselves with more than just condoms. We're all going to need help getting through this.

If you're HIV-positive, come sit on my face. We're all with ya, fella. And since I got this pile of condoms, you and me can try on each one of 'em; I'll keep you up till breakfast comes.

But if you're HIV-negative, don't check out on us, dude. You're needed. We gotta get ready for Act Two. Q

Bear Decadence 1996

NEW ORLEANS
LABOR DAY WEEKEND

Where's da Bears?

Taste of New Orleans

Lagniappe... A little something extra

Mr. Louisiana Leather Contest

Southern Decadence Parade

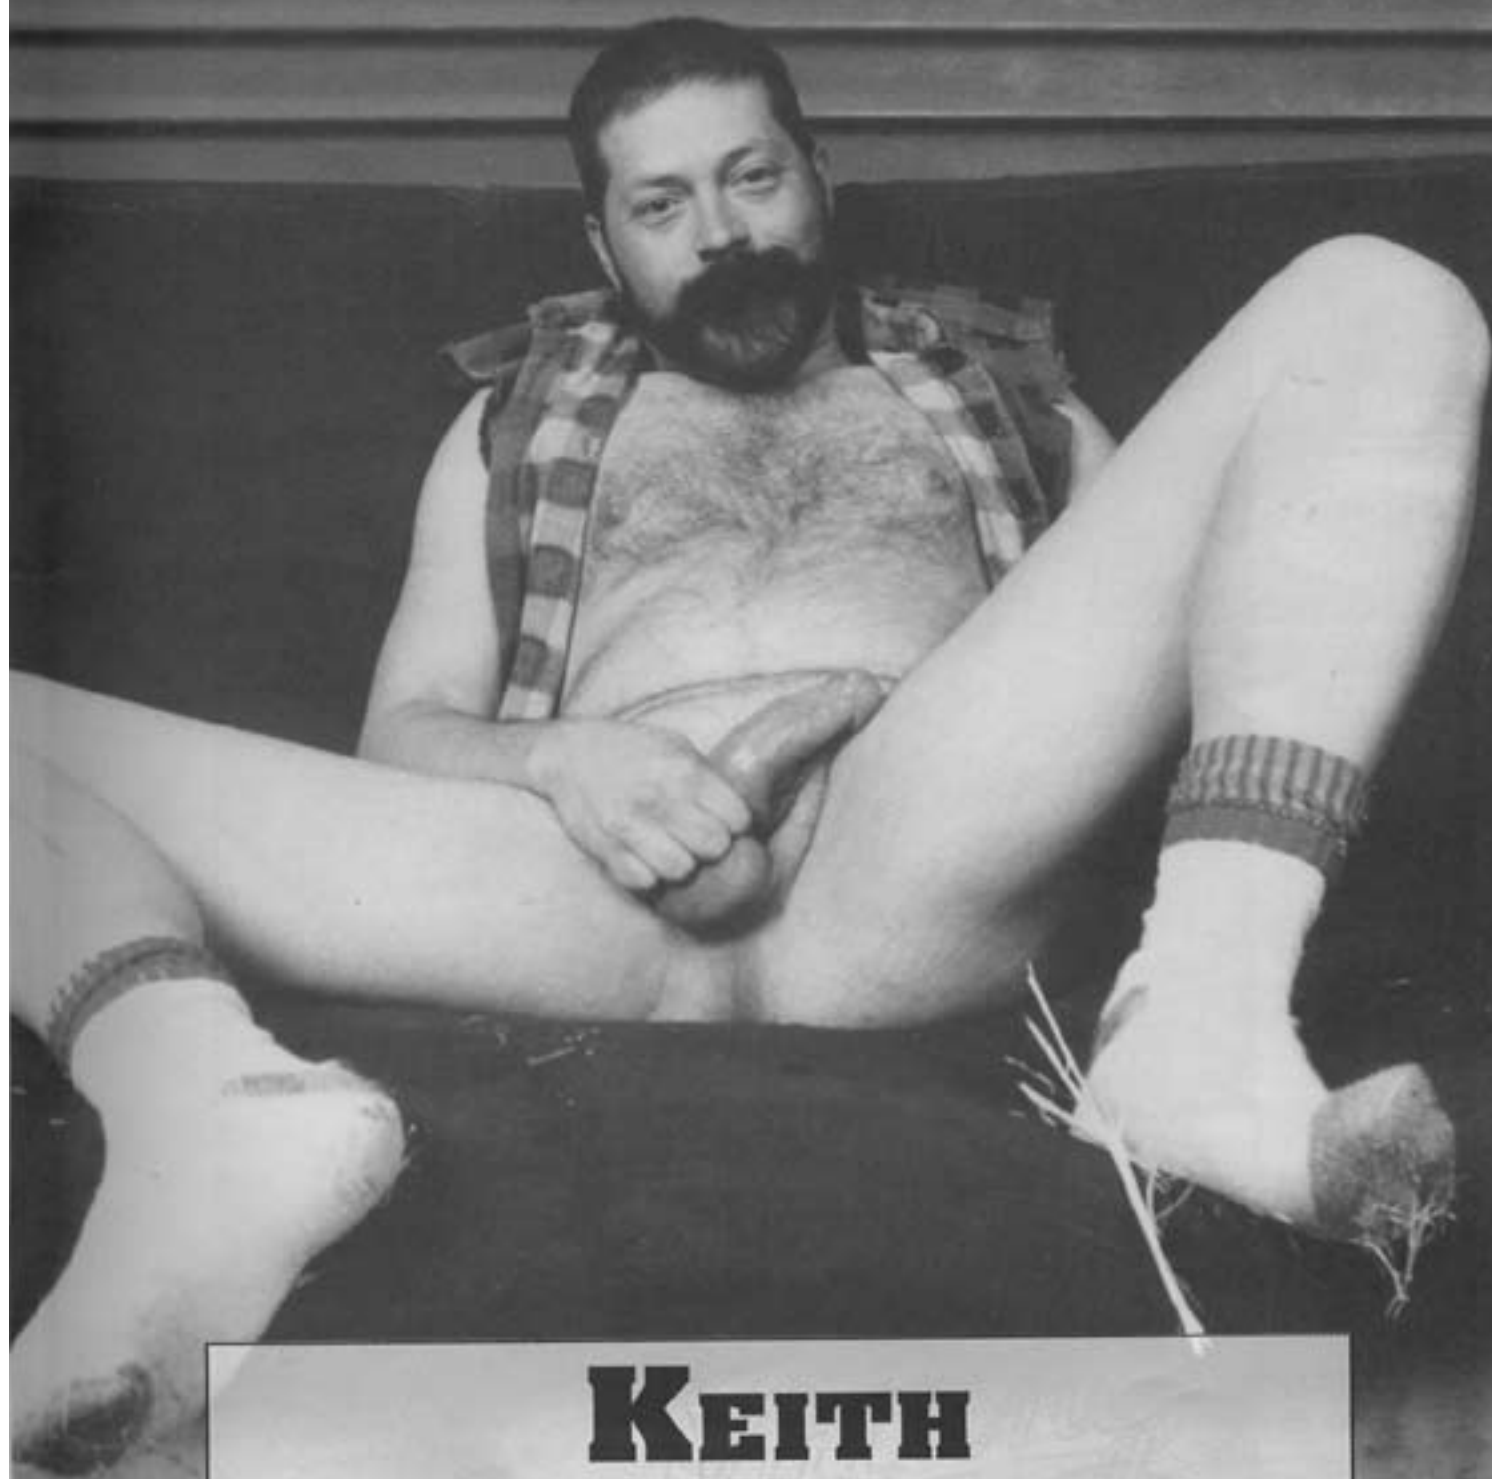

Over a dozen Bear Gatherings are woven into the flamboyant fabric that is Southern Decadence - so many, in fact, that they overlap. The Block Party Beer Bust, the (now infamous) Arctophile party, the inimitable Make-Up / Dress-Down Parade Preparation Party, the Pre-Parade Blowout, and Cocktail Parties a-plenty; hetcha can't make them all!

If you're a bear, you like to eat... and nobody can feed you like we can. Your taste buds will be teased, tickled, and titillated by our culinary extravaganza, featuring authentic Creole and Cajun cuisine beaucoup.

Bear Tour of the French Quarter will introduce you to the mysteries of the oldest part of our city... Bears with wares to share will be there at the Club and Vendor Fest... A carnival of Games and Prizes will jazz up even the most jaded of 'bear... Cyberbears will gather to compare hard-disk sizes at our High-Tech Bears Event.

These contestants won't talk about world peace; they just wanna get a piece. Of the bear action, that is. This optional special event is sponsored by The Lords Of Leather.

Everything must come to climax, and as if frolicking with furry friends all weekend long were not enough, our climax is reached at the most glorious, outrageous, and notorious gay event of the year. Unless you're a seasoned Mardi Gras veteran, you'll never have experienced such lavish excess as this... hence the name. "Decadence."

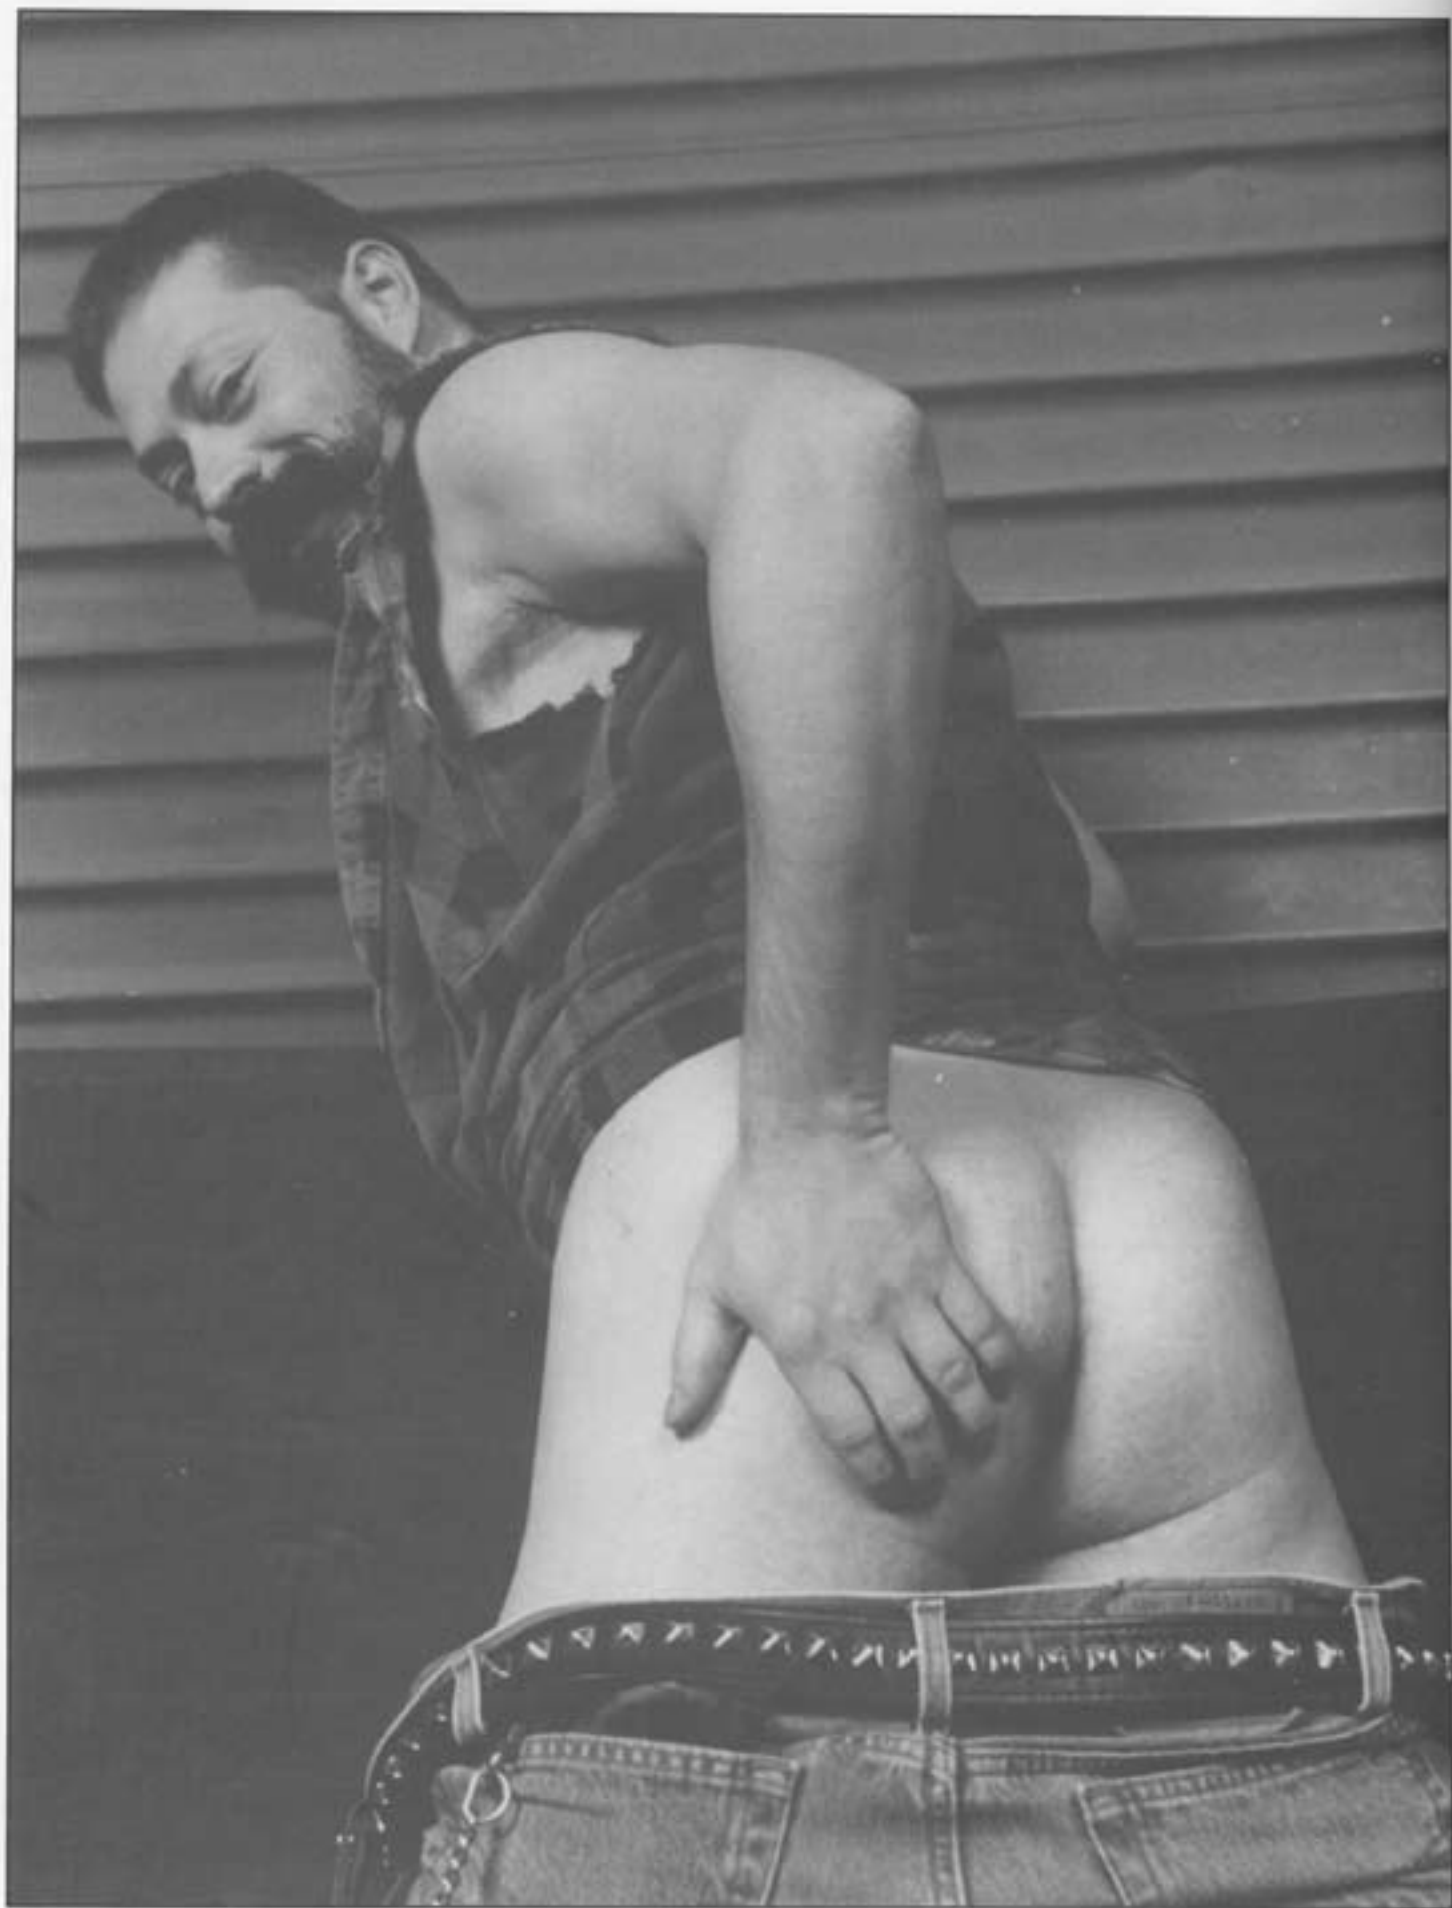

KEITH

Keith is a Southern Illinoisan who recently uprooted to Saint Louis. Hangs out with the Show Me Bears out there and owns an antique shop. Old things are a passion of his. He drives around in a vintage Cadillac and recently gave us an excited call when he acquired a jukebox filled with old blues 45s. Keith is an immediately likable guy who seemed to really enjoy showin' off his boner for the camera. He was so into it, he volunteered to shoot a load for us on video. Baby scratch my back, indeed.

RICHARD

You gotta watch these quiet ones. When asked to tell us a little about himself, Richard initially said he's a history buff, likes reading and antiques; that he's down-to-earth, and sincere. Further prodding (ahem) revealed that he can be a kinky little fuck. You can get him going with some serious roughhousing. Likes his balls played with—hard, and twist those tits while your at it. Wanna lick that carpet of hair that covers his body? It helps if you're an older, salt-n-pepper daddy bear. That's his type.

Bear Decadence '96

August 28-September 1, New Orleans, New Orleans Bear & Bear Trapper Social Club
As if Mardi Gras isn't decadent enough. Now imagine it comprised entirely of man-lusting men and you get a pretty good idea what Southern Decadence is all about. This year, the New Orleans bear club has put together a bunch of bear-specific events they're calling Bear Decadence '96. See their ad on page 64 for details.

LeBear Day Weekend '96

August 30-Sept. 2, Milwaukee, Brew City Bears
I guess they're keeping the details of this event a secret, but I'm bettin' it involves food, beer and a contest. And maybe some booty. Sounds like a good Labor Day to me.

Things To Do

by Rich Iremonger

Bears in the Woods

September 13-15, Silverwood Lake, Bears LA
Three days of camping with Bears LA! Yeah, it's out in the woods, but this isn't one of those no-amenities national forest deals. There're hot showers (but it'll cost ya a quarter), flush toilets, bike paths, and jet ski rentals. So you needn't bring the Swiss army knife. But you do need to bring your own drinking water and you need to register quickly—it's limited to 100 guys.

Bearadise

Sept. 13-15, Oklahoma City, Red Earth Bears
Featuring the Beard, Belly, Butt and Box contest. And a town full of pickup-drivin' cowboys. In addition to the barbecues, brunches, parties and vendors, they're offering side-trips to the Cowboy Hall of Fame and the Oklahoma State Fair. Win a blue ribbon for being the biggest pig.

Folsom Street Fair

September 29, San Francisco
Yeah, officially it's a leather event, but even if that's not your scene, you can't help getting caught up in the sexual energy of the weekend. Things start off with the Fetish Fantasy party on Thursday and don't stop until after the very sleazy street fair on Sunday. One of the best weekends to be in San Francisco. For more info, check out www.folsomstfair.com on the Internet.

Octobearfest '96

October 4-6, Denver, Front Range Bears
One of our favorite events. Hosted by some hospitably hot bastards. Scheduled for Saturday: a picnic in the mountains, a buffet dinner, and the Mr. Front Range Bear contest. This year both the contest and the buffet will be held at the Denver Museum of Natural History. Cruise the cavemen. On Sunday: a barbecue and bear-hug.

AIDS Memorial Quilt

October 12-13, Washington, DC
Last time the Quilt was displayed on the Mall in DC, it was 1992, and an estimated 1 million people showed up to view it. This may be your last chance to see the Quilt displayed in one place, as it's grown too big, even for the Mall. Saturday night, there will be a candlelight procession to the Jefferson Memorial in memory of our lost friends. Thanks to the Tidewater Bears of Southeastern Virginia for supplying this information.

Bear Bust '96

October 17-20, Orlando, Bears of Central Florida
The construction crews are hard at work, reinforcing the outside decks at the Full Moon Saloon. So says the Bears of SW Florida's latest newsletter. This is one of the Big Three bear events, and you have the rest of the summer to work on your tan. Register early, this one sells out, and hotel rooms are already scarce.

European Big Men's Convergence

October 17-21, Brussels, Belgium
Five days of big guys from all over the world at the Sheraton Towers and, get this, the brochure promises "we will serve you complimentary drinks there for five days!" Almost offsets the price of airfare right there. Plus saunas, swimming, dancing. Contact Girth and Mirth Belgium, B.P. 1514, B-6000 Charleroi-1, Belgium.

Hi-BEAR-Nation '96

November 7-10, St. Louis, Show Me Bears
The BEAR staff is gettin' themselves out to St. Louis for this one. Last year's event was a big success, and there could be 400 guys in attendance this time out. The full agenda isn't set as of yet, but it'll be much like last year, we're told, complete with a bear-hug, contest and pancake feed.

It All Comes Out in the End

Bear Pride, Chicago: Views from the Vendor Booth

We didn't think it was possible to top San Francisco's International Bear Rendezvous as the ultimate bear event, but judging from this year's Bear Pride, Chicago may become the new "city that knows how." Over Memorial Day weekend, the Great Lakes Bears hosted what was probably the largest gathering ever of "bears and their admirers"—over 990 guys were registered for the event! And it all went off without a hitch—not counting the miserable weather, which, a reliable source tells me, even the Great Lakes Bears couldn't control!

The Bismarck Hotel and its very able staff will probably never be the same after hosting this lusty, hairy, horny pack of guys! I can vouch for one damaged bed frame in my room; I am sure there were more. And, since the hotel lobby was really the place to be for the weekend, I suspect that those poor elevators may never go up again!

Of course there were parties all weekend, too many to list them all. There was something for everyone, at all times of the day and night. Friday started out with the vendor market and registration. The usual assortment of bears and wares were displayed for browsing and shopping—including yours truly at the BEAR Magazine booth, plus folks from American Bear, Manhunter Video, Dade/Ursus, Pete's Tours, Growwwl Cards, Big Brad, Full Moon Saloon, Bear Built Tough, and many more. Special thanks to everyone for supporting all of us vendors. It's a helluva lot of work, but y'all sure make it worthwhile.

The weekend officially kicked off Friday evening with a welcome party at the Bismarck sponsored by American Bear. Tim and Bruce were gracious hosts, providing food for over 500 of their closest(!) and dearest(!) friends. What a party! The crowd overflowed into the lobby, the hospital suite and, I am sure, individual rooms. Go figure!

Saturday was jam-packed with events including bear-busts, barbecues, a treasure hunt in downtown Chicago, and an on-line party which was a smashing success.

It was kinda fun to meet the real thing after being on-line with these guys for so long.

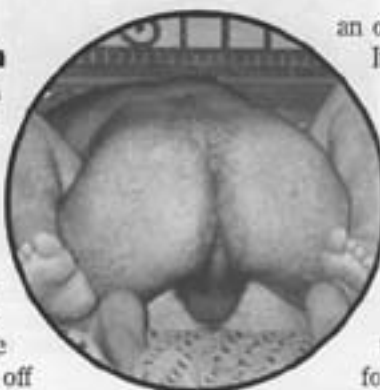

The Mr. Bear Pride contest was held Saturday night at the Palace Theater in the Bismarck. What a great room for a party!

The contest, emceed by Mr. Swen, was a hoot and a holler. No talent segment at this competition, just a bevy of beauties strutting their bear-stuff all over that stage to the approval of an adoring audience. Prizes for best butt, best chest, best belly, and best beard were awarded. David Bress was anointed

Mr. Bear Pride '96, and walked away with a huge bear-topped trophy. A good old-fashioned '70s-style dance party followed the contest, with music DJ Dominic. Imagine a dance floor filled with hot, hairy, sweaty, shirtless, big ol' bears twisting and grinding the night away. Talk about bear heaven!

In spite of a stiff, chilly wind and a few sprinkles, a huge crowd showed up for burgers, sausages, and condiments at Sunday's lakefront picnic. Can you believe there was food left over with this crowd? We also played some games, and it was a riot—the picnic planners came up with some really original ideas, and it was lots of fun. Sunday night's main event was a hot party co-sponsored by BEAR Magazine, Full Moon Saloon, and the Lone Star Saloon. It was held at Numbers and Touche's, two popular watering holes a couple doors down from each other with an adjoining alleyway, which was opened up for the party. It was all-the-beer-you-can-drink-for-a-buck and free schnapps—so the joint was really jumping. Many intimate relationships were formed right there in the bars, ending as quickly as they began. Go figure!

Special thanks to BEAR Magazine icon Jack Radcliffe, who paraded himself around town on the magazine's behalf. Thanks to Harry, Alan and Duane for their help and support. Also thanks to Big Paul and Little Paul for making a work weekend lots of fun. And, finally, a huge thanks to Paul Goormastic and the rest of Chicago's Great Lakes Bears for their gracious hospitality, hard work and enthusiasm.

Mr. DC Bear Competition

The Highwaymen TNT of Maryland hosted their sixth annual Bearfest Weekend, May 10-13, 1996. Bears, cubs, and non-bears checked in at the Ramada Plaza Hotel in Washington, D.C., for a weekend of fun and camaraderie. Handsome, furry hunks from as far away as St. Louis attended the event. The Mr. DC Bear and DC Bear Cub competition, held at the DC Eagle, was a big part of the Highwaymen's 18th anniversary weekend. Although the contest was slow in getting started, the emcee kept it moving at a fast pace and it ended on time. The Highwaymen are one of the most popular clubs in the DC area. Their friendly and easygoing style has won them many friends over the years.

Nine contestants competed for the Mr. DC Bear title, and five for the DC Bear Cub title. In the end, the judges selected the handsome, redheaded and furry Mickey McMahon of Pittsburgh as Mr. DC Bear '96. Hopefully, the club will sponsor him to the International Bear Competition this February in San Francisco. The choice of Chris Tucker of Baltimore as Bear Cub '96 was very popular with the capacity crowd. Tucker is a tall, handsome blond with a winning smile. For all those not aware of Bearfest, the Highwaymen sponsor this weekend every year in the month of May. Make plans to attend next year—you will have a wonderful time. The Highwaymen TNT guarantee it.

Fuckin' Around

Below are the safe-sex basics for staying alive in the Angry '90s. Read them and follow them.

1. Sucking dick is one of those Risk Management deals. HIV has been found in pre-cum, and people have contracted AIDS just from sucking dick. Know that. But also know that not everyone who sucks dick gets AIDS. You have to decide. If it came with, say, a 15 percent chance of infection, would you still do it? Don't take cum in you. Don't suck cock with bleeding gums or pizza burns on the roof of your mouth.
2. Butt-fucking should be done with a condom. Without one, the opening of your dick smears right up against tissues that transmit the virus. That's how straight men get AIDS from women. Taking a dick up your butt without a condom, even for a minute, goes under the heading of A Really Bad Idea. Your shit-chute's a sponge for viruses. In fact, your body actually wants to pull viruses into your bloodstream so it can learn more about them. HIV's a Rubik's Cube that your warm, fuzzy little body'll never learn to crack. So when fucking, make sure you're using a latex rubber (not an animal-product condom). Oil-based lubes such as Vaseline, Crisco, Wesson or hand lotion'll melt a regular rubber. Use a water-based lube. They now sell polyurethane condoms that can be used with oil, but they haven't yet been officially rated for blocking HIV.

3. If you're cumming inside someone with a rubber on, do a final safety check before you shoot. Make sure the hummer's on right and in one piece. Afterward, back out carefully while holding the rubber tight at the base of your dick shaft. Wash your dick and pubes before taking the condom off.
4. Eating butt is a lot like sucking cock. The risk is there, but is not absolute. Shit can contain the virus, in various strengths, depending on your partner's health. There again, you have to decide. Blood and tiny scrapes will be present—tasty, but perhaps dangerous.
5. Fist with gloves on. Your hand can get scraped in ways you won't necessarily see or feel.
6. Cum has the highest concentration of HIV. So let him shoot on the furniture instead of in your eyes, across your buttocks or on your peeling hangnails.
7. Don't force the other guy to take care of you. Sorry, dude. It's your job.
8. People fib. Protect yourself anyway.
9. Getting shit-faced makes lots of things sound like real good ideas that maybe aren't. Keep sex and drugs in separate bedrooms (rock-n-roll, though, is always cool).
10. Whether you're HIV-positive or not, have you decided you're going to stay healthy? It's kind of easy to fall into the "we're all going to get sick eventually" shit-hole. Lamme tell you something: You get what you settle for. So take care of yourself out there.
