I'm a chickophobe. Yup. That's right. A chickophobe. Afraid of femininity in all its forms, and especially of guys who act like chicks. I'm not proud of it, but I'm the first to admit it. (That's the first step towards recovery, right? Well, even so... indulge me for a minute, here. Maybe I'm in recovery. You decide.)

You see, in my singler days, if I noticed somebody attractive, and the mere sight of him made my balls bounce, I thought he had to "be", act, or speak a certain way for it to "work" for me. I constantly set myself up for failure. I know. But I never stopped looking for that archetypal "real man." If I thought he was chick-ish, I'd dismiss him without so much as an afterthought.

When he'd walk over and say "Hi," I'd expect him to sound like Grizzly Adams, Darth Vader or Jethro Clampett. The slightest hint of Charles Nelson Reilly, and I'd be doin' the Snagelpuss Slide across the bar.

If he seemed a little... umm, dense, that was cool. After all, there's nothing sissier than brains, intellect, and good breeding, right? Fuckin' A—.

And, he had to smell like a man—squeaky clean or ranker than last week's Hanes. No in-between here. And no fragrances, for God's sake. Ain't nothing masculine about smelling like flowers and spices. Hell, I'd rather he dipped his finger into the real toilet and rubbed that water behind his ears.

If I noticed even a hint of passiveness, hesitance, or, God forbid, a lisp in his voice - forget it.

"Oh, my. Look at the time."

Yeah, that was me. I was a jerk.

Oh, it goes deeper. If he passed the voice and smell tests (and the myriad of ridiculous pre-tests that even admitted him into the voice and smell arenas), there was the drink test, where I'd offer to get him something from the bar. If he requested anything other than a beer, or for a cocktail consisting of anything other than alcohol and ice—

"Uh-oh."

I'd be thinkin' all the way to the bar that we're teetering on the edge of something sophisticated or refined here, but I'd be givin' him the benefit of the doubt, since he smelled good, so I'd at least wait to see if he raised his pinkie when he drank it before throwing him back. If he asked for a soda, mineral water, or — eek — nonalcoholic beer, making it clear that he "doesn't drink," I'd naturally assume he was a big ol' train wreck, and fret to myself that I had no intention of killing my buzz, just because he can't handle the sauce. After all, 12 can also be the number of steps from my sofa to the refrigerator to fetch me another beer, so this would never work out anyway.

These tests would go on and on, all night. It got to the point where I'd be makin' up new rules just when it seemed like the guy had passed the standard aptitude tests. The music test, for example, measured his response to the songs being spun by Mr. DeeJay. A subtle head-bobbing was cool, as long as it wasn't too dramatic. If, however, he started clickin' his heels and movin' his hips, or even the suggestion of a wrist movement...

"Danger, Will Robinson! Danger!"

My little alarm would go off in my head. Damn, it's a wonder I ever got laid.

Okay, so let's just say for the sake of argument and expedience that he passed all of the standard tests, coasted through the advanced level, and he somehow made me temporarily suspend my disbelief that were having drinks over Sister Sledge's "We Are Family" in a gay bar.

Let's see... going down the checklist here... dirty jeans, novelty-free t-shirt, boots that look worn for function and not decoration, no visible piercings, facial hair that's neat without looking "neat", hair that's short but not faux military. So far, so good. Continuing on... let's see... he's belched twice without excusing himself, proudly scratched his hairy gut a coupla times, yawned at that show-tune Mr. DeeJay played, and seemed genuinely disinterested in the passersby who clucked at him for sneezing without covering his mouth. Oh yeah — not to mention the time he put a finger aside his nose, leaned over, and blew snot onto the floor without the benefit of a tissue. Wow... no visible signs of class or refinement. Could be fun.

Yup. That was me, in search of "Mr. Man." I had some great sex, surprisingly enough, but, sadly, I missed out on some really interesting slices out of the big pie-o-life, because my own pathetic insecurities prevented me from socializing (or fucking) with guys who I felt had any degree of flamboyance or "femininity" attached to them.

I still have a problem. But I'm getting better.
I even know all the words to "Don't Cry for me, Argentina." And, I can tell you who was in "Mildred Pierce" and "All About Eve."

Shit, yeah; sure as hell can. Ask me.

It's one thing to celebrate our "type." But, judging from the some of the mail we get here at BEAR, some of you seem genuinely angry at the "twinks", "fems", and the "pretty boys" as they're often described.

Some of the most interesting people I've met fit into these categories. Just because I don't wanna fuck 'em doesn't mean they're not good people. Age and temperance has helped me. Experience has, too. I've seen some of the ridicule inflicted on people just for being themselves, and then being rejected by a group that claims diversity and acceptance as parts of its credo.

When you really think about it, it's a pretty shallow existence we lead when we limit our social group only to guys we find attractive; those who dress like us, talk like us, listen to the same music we do, or express themselves exactly like we do. Yeah, it's comfortable sometimes. And it's "safe." But, it can also get pretty boring, and what does it really say about us?

When we isolate folks because they're different from us, whether their "difference" is as small as a lisp or as big as a f-f-fabulous Easter Bonnet with real bunnies on it, we lose the opportunity to share something, learn something, or maybe make a friend.

Look where I've come from. If I can see the light, you can, too.

Until next time...

WRITE TO BEAR

TEASE

First of all, thanks for your latest issue of BEAR. Issue # 59 is one of your best to date. The entire magazine is loaded with some of the best locking men from cover to cover. I enjoyed every last one of them and I am in heat once again!

But I do have some questions for you guys. Who is that incredibly handsome leather cowboy bear on page 53 on the cover of the "Man-To-Man personals? Does he have a personal ad in this issue? Where can I find more pictures of him? Has he ever done a spread in any one of your magazines? If he hasn't, can you persuade him to do one? Please, please, please, direct me to any of his work if you can. I am in love and I must see more of him!

Keep up the great work and I look forward to your reply. Thanks again, guys.

Gabriel Central Texas

Well, snap outta love right now, because that "incredibly handsome leather cowboy bear" as you described him, is just about 15 feet away from me as I write this, stepping out of our shower. Yup, that's my other half. I've written about him several times and a bunch of guys wented to see the man who continues to inspire me. So, the secret's out. He hasn't done a spread. He won't be doing a spread. The only dirty pictures of him that exist are at home in my night stand.

So, yeah... I just put that picture in there to tease you. I love that.

BIKER'S MARK

Hey guys just picked up the 5th collectors edition of Classic Bear.... who's this guy Mark?? (pp.21-26)—VERY HOT. Nice to see his type making the pages of BEAR Magazine again. It's been a while since I've ventured the pages of your magazine. I guess I will have to more often, with guys like Mark hitting the pages. I'm also leaking forward to the video you mentioned; Big Bear Trucking Company II. Any plans to shoot more pages of Mark? I'm a big fan of biker types and jockstreps.

Thanks again Furskins

Nobody's a bigger fan of biker types than me, bud. And Mark certainly looks good with that having between his leg's, don't he? He's indeed a very hot man. I just finished looking through some of the still photography from Big Bear Trucking Company II - wow! Between those shots of Pat & Ernie (Classic BEAR V) in the sling, and Biker Mark champin' on Jack Radcliffe's hairy butthole. Wood-head! Now, I can't even wait for this one to come out. Big Bear Trucking Company II should be out later this year. Look for it.

LETTERS FROM YOU

FAKE FUR?

I enjoy picking up a copy of your magazine from time to time when I am in my local smut store. The stories and columns are fun to read, and, of course, the naked pictures of the bears are nice to look at. The only complaint I have (and I am sure it is a grip of many of your readers), is the vost majority of the men who place personal ads never acknowledge you even wrote to them. I have even enclosed SASE's and photos hoping to at least get them returned if the guy was not interested, but nothing happens. It gets expensive having photos done up and buying stemps these days. By the way I only answer ads from people who are in my own age group and who are advertising for someone who fits my description and likes the same things I do. Someone I think would be a good match. Do you put fake ads in your magazine? I have beard of publications that do that.

Martin Indiana

I assure you, Mertin. As much fun as we could probably have writing classified ads (sure, we do enjoy our own perverse brand of humor from time to time), we simply don't have the time, energy, or resources to do that. So—yeah, all of the eds you see in BEAR are real, for better or werse. I can't account for the losers you've been contacting, who have neither the class nor the manners to respond, even when you've provided a SASE. They den't deserve you or your time, so cut your losses and count your blessings and move on. Besides, if they don't have the courtesy to write back, you can bet your bottom they prolly wouldn't have cooked you breakfast. It's a crapshoot contacting a guy through the mail. Luckily, it only costs the price of a stamp. Lots of guys these days are on the internet, where you can look up and hook up with guys, see their pictures (if they use their own), and chat before getting together. Good lock.

PSYCH: 101

When you printed my first letter I thought it was because you sympathized or at least understood the purpose of its impact. I see from the "Bear Melt" letter in BEAR 59 that you do not. I am not Jack Radcliffe bashing. I think he is an attractive man, but that is irrelevant to the point I was making.

As a psychologist, I have every day from patients male and female—who complain about sexual partners who are "non-reciprocating" and/or "errotionally unavailable." This selfish behavior is not attractive or desirable, and should not be emulated or tolerated. We all deserve to be loved, and only a person with low self-esteem would aspire to that kind of involvement knowingly.

As to Bernie's bewilderment regarding my purchasing of more than one of Jack's videos, I was hoping that the first one was an abarration, and not the norm, but it was not. I do not need to purchase anymore of Ms.
Radcliffe's work. People such as Anthony Gallo and Buster, who appear with him, would be better choices. I would also recommend the video, Easy Inn, by Titan as a beautiful example of what men loving men is all about.

Joe MI

As a porn editor, I hear every day from my readers, male and fema... err, well, mostly male, complaining about not getting their chance to service Mr. Radcliffe's dripping foreskin. He can reciprocate, or he can sleep. They don't care.

This is America. If somebody wants to engage in sexual activity with somebody who doesn't reciprocate (either for real or on video, with an inflatable boyfriend who's incapable of reciprocation or with a big rubber dildo they're nicknamed "Dan") —that's their choice. Who are you to tell them that they're "wrong", or that their partner's behavior is neither attractive nor desirable.

One of the biggest problems with our society (Oh, here I go...) is folks trying to tell other folks how they should live or behave. If you're not into it, don't do it. If you are, then do. But don't presume to tell the rest of us what is end is not cool. Somebody who sucks somebody else's dick without expecting the fuvor in return does not necessarily have "low self-esteem." In San Francisco, we call them "bettoms."

As for Titan Media's Easy Inn being a—how did you put it: "beautiful example of what men loving men is all about"—yeah, men-loving-men typically cruise from motel room to motel room, fucking each other without so much as an introduction, and then moving on to the next room for another anonymous romp. That ain't love, buddy. It's fun, and it reallilly feels good en a purely biological level. But it's sex, not love. You, of all people—Mr. Psychologist—should know the difference.

APPRECIATION

The Music City Bears would just like to extend a big "THANKS" to Brush Creek Media and BEAR Magazine for your support and assistance during Bear Jam 2000. We really appreciate the merchandise that was donated and also Larry Woolwine taking the time to come to Nashville as a vendor. Special thanks go to Steve Hurley for coming and participating also. Steve, your friendliness, outgoing personality, and charm made you a big hit here in Nashville and we hope you will come back to see us again soon.

The Music City Bears are proud to associate eursalves with Brush Creek Media and BEAR and we think you guys are the absolute best at what you do. Keep up the good work!

Sincerely, Rick Harris Music City Bears

Thanks Big Rick. Greers. Always happy to help out a great club like the Music City Bears. Hey readers check out some great pics from their event on page 68.

NEW FAN

As a rather newly coming-out bearcub (and a big one at that) I would like to thank you and all of Brush Creek Media for contributing in part to helping me feel comfortable with myself for the first time in longer than I can ever remember!

I have bought my first 2 issues of BEAR Magazine (58 & 59) and would like to pay a belated compliment to Lohn Lytle's piece Mauled by Mahler. Being a classical musician mysell as well (voice, piano, organ, cello, etc.) I found Lytle's allusions to be quite stimulating and exciting. Hell, it set me off! Couple that with sizzling photography that could burn a sizable hole in ones' shorts, and you have a GREAT Magazine! I hope that in the near future I can get my hands on some earlier issues so that I can see what many of your more "veteran" readers have said about the improvements this magazine has made. With beautiful beers gracing every issue, what more could there be to improve upon that details and other minutae? One thing is for certain; you have a new and from henceforth loyal patron and perhaps even a future contributor!

Hugs, belly rubs, pax et bonum (peace and good things).

Oh.... Tish.... That's Latin, isn't it? Oops. Wrong language. Anyways, welcome aboard buddy. I wasn't sure if the Mahler story would fly or not. But it seems a whole bunch of guys liked it. That's coal.

REFERENCE

I reed, studied, and am now using BEAR 56. It's good, useful, and trendy. Your response to Saturday Night Live's mention of BEAR was ingenious enough. One thought though: The cover text—"A Heapin' Helpin' of Thick Hairy Beef." Talk about mixed metaphor! It sounds like

the wittke wire

Lately it seems as if I've been enjoying television commercials more than the actual programming I am ostensibly tuning in to watch in the first place. I mean, I'm still keeping an eye on the actual shows and making note of the disproportionately high number of burly and/or hairy and/or apparently-homosexual men on those two-sides-of-the-same-damn-coin game shows, "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?" and "Jeopardy." But judging from the mail I've been getting, I am not alone in noticing that many of the men who have been picked to hawk a wide range of products during the program breaks are of the macho and often hairy variety.

Which makes me wonder if I won't soon be zipping to the commercials when I tape a show rather than zipping through them?

Case in point: I don't think I am ever going to tire of the butch biker dude on that Mini-Wheats commercial. I could watch him again and again and if you have seen this commercial, perhaps you, too, have looked forward to another viewing just like me.

In case you haven't, the biker in question is wearing denim and studs and he's all furry and tattooed and has great facial hair. There's something incredibly endearing about the way he tells the anthropormorphized cereal that he has a place in his heart for both the sweetened and unsweetened varieties of Mini-Wheat. And the dude's "Born to Be Sweer" tattoo just about melted my eranky and cynical heart. I hadn't personally ever wanted to be a talking piece of breakfast food before seeing this ad, but if the guy about to eat me were to be this exact biker, well, I would be willing to reconsider my current life goals.

I'm also a big fan of the Australian cowboys on the Outback

Steakhouse commercials, what with their facial hair and their blocky bodies and their visible body fur and those accents that would just charm the pants off of me were they to be whispered in my actual ear. The guys aren't quite sexy enough to get me to abandon vegetarianism, but steak ain't exactly the meat the Outback commercials inspire me to want to eat.

Also, three cheers from me for the bloke on the Tabasco sauce "Milder not Mild" commercial. Have you seen this guy? Like the Mini-Wheats biker, he is also tattooed. While watching television, the butch guy in question liberally sprinkles Tabasco sauce on a succession of tortilla chips, popping each one into his mouth. The fellow has on a v-neck sleeveless T-shirt and there are curls of chest hair poking up over the someone may actually be thinking of a thick juicy steak in a steak house rest-a-u-rant, more interested in gluttony than fucking, or even cuddling. Attention! En garde!

Sincerely,

Ummm... yeah. Sure Tom. Trendy? Whatever you say, buldy. Put down that sword. Please?

BLOWING SMOKE

Regarging Classic BEAR V. Yes, some damn HOT men. However, I have the following comments. Mike states that smoking a good cigar is a turn-on. So, where's the cigar? Mark states that cigars and pipes are turn-ons. So, where's the cigar or pipe? Both of these men would look even hotter champin' on a man-sized stagle such as Steve Hurley lavors. Is Steve Hurley a candidate for "Classic Bear No 6"? I hope so. Just be sure he's champin' on one of his man-sized stagles in most of the photos, plus some of him suckin' on a briar. Oh yeah, I love those nips of his, too.

Colonel Dad, Cigar Master California

Sure, Colonel. What the hell's a briar? For a good look at Steve fuckin' a butt while champin' on a big stagle, check out the "Russian River Rendezvous" pictures in BEAR 60. Steve's champin' on a big stagle and fuckin' the shit out of his buddy. Or that conterfold, which has become one of my favorites. Mmmm....

SEVENTH HOUSE

Scott, in response to your editorial in BEAR 59, so what if you don't consider yourself a bear. You've got two qualities I look for in a man: intelligence and a good heart! Two things I find to be the sexiest qualities. Hell, if you were single and if I lived in San Francisco and the moons were in the right house and the plane's lined up again, and if...

Keep up the good work. AS Mississippi

Actually, I'm dumber'n a brick and as amery as a pole cat. Just ask my other half. But thanks for your kind words. Always appreciated!

COVER CRAZY

When BEAR 58 arrived I snotched that badboy up real quick! And, needless to say I was not disappointed in Oz's layout. Damn, he one hot Big Bearded Black Butt-Munchable Bear! I was fortunate enough to pick up a copy of BEAR with 2—count 'em—2 front and back covers. So, in what may be considered to be a fanatical/obsessive move! plan on taking the extra cover and frame it or just frame the entire mag and get me another copy. Even though if I do get another copy, I'm still ganna have to come up with some sorta splash guard to protect Oz's layout so as not so ruin it with my discharge.

I, being a black Bear from a state of mind, more so than a physical standpint, have been a fan of yours since day one and I congratulate you on having a Black man on your cover. The Bear community is a group of guys I feel right at home with although I must admit that being the only Black man at a bear function has sometimes made me feel like on outsider. Now, don't get me wrong, the guys always welcome me with big open arms and even bigger smoothes, I sometimes just get the feeling of odd man out. So, to see a hot Black man like Oz grace the cover of your publication along with the 3 hot men found on the bottom of page 69 in issue #53 gives me comfort in knowing that there are other Black Bears out there. By the way, what is the chance of getting those three Black Bears to pose for BEAR? Ever since I saw the pic of the 3 men in the water I have fantosized on several occasions servicing all three at once. Any chance of seeing Oz in future video releases or calendars and the like?

Keep up the awesome job and as always I look forword to future issues.

Smell Ya Later... Piggy Pete BEAR #14

Hey thanks Pete. Always good to hear from an Old Schooler who's still a BEAR fan.

We put Oz on the cover because he's hatter'n shit, not because he's black. But thet's beside the point. You enjoyed his pictures and had nesty, dirty thoughts about lickin' his hairy butthole, so we succeeded, I think.

How about an updated dirty pic of you though? ①

the wittke wire

collar. Eventually, for some reason, the bulldog tattooed on the man's bicep breaks its chain to drink some water. I guess this means the sauce is too hot for the tattoo on the man if not for the man himself. Whatever, I just find myself riveted to the fur on his chest.

I've also duly noted the bearded Al Borland-like guy, John Grabiscus, the host of something called Ship Shape TV. At least that's how he bills himself on the westmarine.com commercial that caught my eye a few times, I don't even know what or where Ship Shape TV is.

The furry forearms of infomercial pitchman Anthony Sullivan also manage to intrigue me. I actually find myself sitting through that annoying ad for those battery operated round lights that seem to be this decade's clap-on/clap-off illumination gimmick.

So, just to prove I'm not the only one having my interest piqued by the macho men of Madison Avenue, let me pull out my big, full sack (of mail, that is) and see what my honorary (or should that be "horny-rary?") cub reporters have written to tell me about. Mark T. writes: "I've got to buy stock after seeing Ameritrade's new commercial. It features this masculine hunk of beef bear with yards of woolly carpet COVERING his entire body ... on a massage table wearing a towel and another man's hands running HIS fingers all through the bear's fut....

Where are the outtakes where we see this actor REALLY massaging this bear? I'd love to spread his hairy ass cheeks and rub my daddy beard over them, tongue-fuck his hairy hole and grab some lube for my hairy foreskin and ride him, man-to-man." Wow! I thought my thoughts ran to the very dirty while watching the butch men of the media, but I think any outtakes from the Ameritrade commercial wouldn't compare very well to the hairy hole tongue-fucking you imagine, Mark T.! I haven't seen the Ameritrade commercial myself, but you can bet I'm looking forward to it now. By the way, the world needs more perverts with a gift for metaphor, "yards of woolly carpet," indeed.

A reader named Huey writes: "Have you noticed the actor in the recent Metabolife commercials? The one who goes into a store to buy pants, but will only shop in the 32 waist section, and then sneaks out when no one's looking to grab a size 36? Hot man. Have you seen him in anything else?"

Well, yes Huey, I did indeed notice that man and found his hody hair very appealing. I don't know if I recognize the guy from anything else he has done, but I certainly hope he goes on to bigger and equally uncovered things. As for the message of the Metabolife commercial, I kept thinking that what the furball really needed wasn't so much a miracle weight loss pill as somebody to kiss his big hairy belly and to tell him that it's the sexiest thing on Earth.

In the past, this has done wonders for my own personal endorphin levels.

Until next time, when the commercials come on, you might not want to touch that remote! You can write to wittkewire@hotmail.com and get whatever you'd like off your hairy chest.

Visa, MasterCard, AmEx, Discover Personal Checks Thank you for taking the time out of your busy schedules to be here today.

As indicated on the agenda you found at your place setting, our discussion should only take a few minutes. And please, enjoy your cobb salad and iced tea.

We've assembled this meeting because we felt it was necessary. Each of you is a professional—we realize that—and by no means do we want to place blame or detract from the successes we've all been able to attain over the years. But...

...Excuse me, could I get a glass of water? Thank you.

Um, let's go ahead and dive in, shall we? Far too many of you just don't know how to suck dick.

Our customer relations department has been swamped with complaints over the years, and it's costing our shareholders an estimated $3.6 million annually in lost revenue and untold millions in image and goodwill.

Gentlemen, sucking cock is not supposed to hurt!

I'm yelling at you. I promised myself I wouldn't do that. Like I said, you're all professionals, dedicated to your craft. But didn't we get into this racket because of our love of dick and appreciation of the subtleties of manhood?

It's time to reaffirm our goals.

Let's review: As you can see in the first slide...

...Oh. Slide One appears to be upside down. My apologies.

But here we can still see a large dick and an eager mouth. A textbook situation. Notice how the mouth opens wide enough to actually accommodate the dick?

THE TEETH ARE OUT OF THE WAY.

It's apparently been a lot of years since many of you have actually been sucked off. Our organization fully understands the cocksucking conundrum, wherein you're the one who gets on your knees and gets kinky, and that no one actually wants to GET head anymore. We realize that. But in order to succeed, you must put yourself in your stud top's position. Empathize. He wants silky, firm, pussy-like pressure on his dick. Can you honestly say you provide that?

You have to FEEL his level of involvement! FEEL it in your mouth!

Does this microphone detach? Yes. Good. I'm gonna sit on the edge of the stage here and loosen my tie and tell you a secret.

TESTING, ONE... TWO...

Every penis is different. And they'll speak to you. Pay attention to these following bullets on Slide Two—you have a copy in your individual information packet. It's a technique we call B.V.E.H.:

- (a) Body language of the top—is he trying to pull away?
- (b) Verbal cues of the top—good moans versus bad ones
- (c) Erection status: If the cock begins to shrink in your mouth, you're doing it wrong. Back off. Try something else. Conversely, if the cock continues to swell, and the balls retract, you're doing something right. Fine tune, alternate techniques, and finger his pucker at your discretion.
- (d) HEAD. In this case, we refer to the head of his dick.

Not to impugn your years of practical knowledge, but the head of a dick can bring intense pain to many men if wielded improperly. Especially to those who are uncircumcised. Gradually increase pressure on his dick head with the roof of your mouth (or the back of your tongue if inverted) and let items a, b and c be your guide.

A few ancillary points on Slide Three:

(e) Foreskins. Yes, they're smelly and we all love them. But when sucking an uncut dick, always assume that yanking the foreskin back and chomping for all you're worth will harm the subject. Again: let him be your guide. Start by pistoning up and down on his cock with the foreskin fully in place—just like if he'd stuck it in a slick butthole.

Then, using the B.V.E.H. techniques, you can try pulling the foreskin back to increase his pleasure. But if you've gone too far, you MUST honor his bris and bring him back into a comfortable range. It's your duty!

- (f) Girth. If a dick is too big for your mouth—something we all enjoy, I'm sure—then you have to decide if you want to proceed, or move to the Greek paradigm and just sit on it.
- (g) Teeth. They CAN be used. But only judiciously. A slight smooth pressure underneath the shaft of the dick with teeth can bring pleasure, but only to a certain degree. Please note: Eddie Munster was never fully capable of this technique.

Finally:

- (h) Cum. Your decision to take cum in your mouth remains intensely personal. You all know the epidemiological risks, and our official policy has always been that you shouldn't do it. Corporate liability must remain low to keep the underwriters happy. But yes, cum. IF you should decide to let a full grown, preferably straight male ejaculate 680 million of his children onto your tongue...
  - ...Yes, I thought you'd like that ...

...then you MUST learn to completely relax your mouth and throat when he comes. I always keep in mind a variation on the old 1960s protest cry: "Here come the kids...go limp!"

Otherwise you're hurting him and robbing him of a pleasurable experience.

And most importantly: You're possibly alienating a new recruit!

So NOW do you see the importance of effective cocksucking? I'm sure you all want to win that microwave oven...

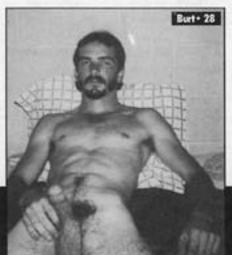

Well, gentlemen, this concludes the general meeting. The host hotel has generously provided break-out rooms for a practice session. Refer to your table tags: Fuschia, Rose, Lilac, Hyacinth and Lobelia. Those rooms are marked with the corresponding colors, and remember: no swapping assignments. Complimentary kneepads with our logo are also available at the concierge desk.

Thank you for your years of dedication. Meeting adjourned. **@

THIRD EYE PHOTOGRAP

We shot Bob here when he came to town for International Bear Rendezvous this year. Gotta tell ya though we were waitin' for this one, like a Tomcat waiting to tear through a tunafish. You see, Bob came with some pret-t-ty high references from none other than our buddy Harry. Yeah... that Harry. CastroBear Presents... Lazy Bear Weekend... Bear Calendar Man and product model and knows-just-about-everybody-east-of-thepyramids-Harry.

Luckily for us, Bob's references weren't just somebody blowin' smoke. Bob started peelin' aff the clothes and as soon as we saw that pelt, that baby face, and that hairy ass and beautiful set of low hangers (that picture on page 25 of his loose nut sac resting on the bench is up there on my "favorite photos" list), we knew Harry was right when he told me, "Scott, this one is the real deal."

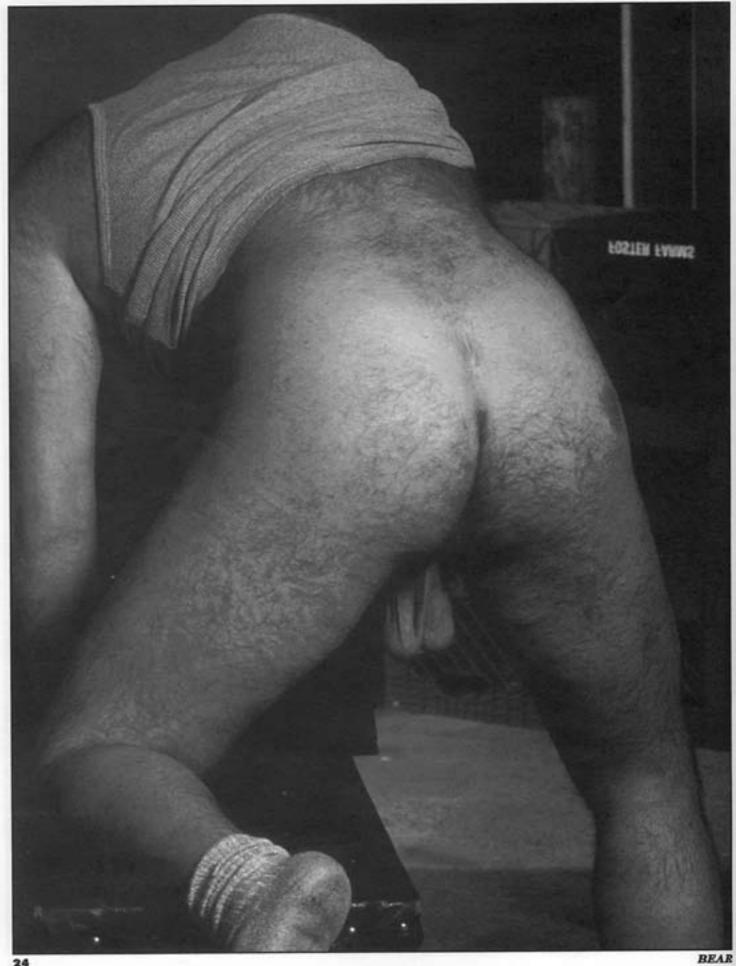

Bob's a West Virginian. He's a tough one to catch, but you might be able to grab his attention. You can write your dirtiest thoughts to him at: wvcubbie@aol.com. @

An old, green, Chevy ton truck pulled into my drive and around to the barn. It stopped and a big man got out and came towards me. A real big man, a bear of a man! He was at least 6'4" with thick heavy arms corded with muscle and a burly chest filling a sweaty, white tank top. Black hair sprouted over the neck of the tank and covered his shoulders and arms like moss. He was my brawny, new far-

"Hi, I'm Vince Shepard. Everybody calls me Shep," the bear said with a sparkle of white teeth between a black moustache and beard as he extended his hand. "You must be Tom Peters."

"Glad to meet you," I said, taking his offered "paw". "Buddy spake very highly of you. He said you had experience with draft horses. The mares are in the barn."

I had recently bought a team of Belgian mares. I wanted to use them in harness pulling a heavy Conestoga wagon in parades, at local fairs, and rodeos. My regular farrier, Buddy, was a skinny little fellow who did a great job on my riding horses, but couldn't handle big draft horses. Buddy had recommended Vince Shepard.

"Nice barn," Shep was saying as we walked down the breezeway between the stalls. "You been on this place

"About three years," I told him. "The place still needs some fixin' up, but it's coming along."

"Huh, I been shoeing horses in this area for over ten years and I never even knew you were here," Shep com-mented as we reached the stalls with the two Belgians. "I know just about everybody in this county who has horses. I can't figure how I missed someone like you!"

Shep smiled at me and gave me a little wink. Then he turned to examine the mares. I wasn't sure, but I thought the guy had just cruised me. My dick was sure though, It started to swell with excitement.

We cross-tied one of the mares in the aisle between the stalls. Shep sat the mare's pie-pan-sized foot on the hoof stand and rasped the bent ends of the nails which protruded through the wall of her hoof. When the nail ends were filed away, he tucked the bent leg between his thick thighs and pried the shoe free with his nippers. He trimmed the hoof with his knife, put the foot down, and repeated the process on the other three feet.

"So, you got family around here?" Shep asked, "wife, kids, maybe a dog?"

"Nope, I'm single, just me and the horses," I told him as I patted the more on the rump. "What about you?"

"I've been married twice, got two grown boys from my first marriage," Shep answered. "My boys live back East near their mother. I'm currently single and enjoying every minute of it. Now, let's fit this little lady with some new shoes."

The mare took a size seven horseshoe, which is one bigass shoe. Shep fitted the shoe to the mare's hoof with a minimal amount of shaping on the anvil. Then he placed the shoe, nailed it, and snapped the sharp nails where they protruded through the hoof wall.

"She's quiet," Shep said, referring to the mare. "It helps a lot with these big draft horses if they're quiet, especially on hot days like today.

As if to illustrate how hot it was, Shep pulled his tank top over his head.

He revealed a chest which was all that I had hoped it would be: beefy, burly, and covered with black hair. His pecs were two large mounds of flesh beneath a pelt of black, sweaty fur. Big brown nipples poked out from nests of damp, curly hair.

Shep looked up at me, caught me drooling over his body, and smiled. He went back to work. We talked a little about horses, farming, and Shep's work as a farrier. When he was done with the first mare, I took her out to the pas-ture. By the time I got back Shep had the second mare cross-tied with her old shoes off.

FICTION BY GARETH MACKENZIE · PHOTOGRAPHY BY BRUSH CREEK MEDIA

I watched Shep as he went through the whole routine with this mare too. The muscles in his arms flexed and hardened as he lifted and manipulated the heavy legs of the mare. His back strained with the weight of holding her feet up. His body dripped sweat and I was so hard my cock ached at the sight of him.

I was pretty sure a wet spot was showing through my jeans. I watched Shep's crotch for signs of life, but his leather apron hid any bulge from my eyes.

When Shep finished the second mare, I took her out while he gathered his tools. I came back to find Shep's truck loaded. I was disappointed.

"I guess you got a couple more appointments before the end of your work day, huh?"

I asked.

"Nope, this was my last stop for the day," Shep said with a grin as his ran one big, grimy hand over the hump of his sweaty pec. The other hand pointed to a bucket of water by the feedroom door. "That water clean?"

"Yeah," I answered, "but I can run you some fresh water.

"Nacwl, this'll do," Shep said as he picked the bucket up and emptied half of it over his head and shoulders. "Whew! That feels good!"

I stood looking at this big, wet bear. He took a step toward me, his eyes sparkling with mischief. I took a chance, reached out and touched one of his ripples. The brown tit was firm. I rubbed it between my thumb and forefinger. Shep smiled and stepped closer. My other hand cupped his free pec and I began to massage it, running my fingers through the thick hair.

Shep unsnapped my shirt and brushed it open. His hands roamed over my pecs and down my tight belly. Shep was much bigger and huskier than I was, but I was more lean muscle. I could tell he liked my body by the way his hands caressed my chest and stomach.

My own hands were still playing with Shep's chest. I twisted one of his fleshy nipples and his eyes closed with pleasure. I twisted it harder.

Shep's breath escaped between his clenched teeth in a low rumble.

"Yeah, man," Shep growled, "suck daddy's tit, man, c'mon, suck daddy's tit."

I bent my head down to meet Shep's nipple. My tongue ran over his nip and circled its base. It tasted salty. My nose was pressed into Shep's chest hair. He smelt of man, horse, and sweat. My cheek brushed the soft, wet hairs of his pelt.

I pulled and twisted his other nipple. As I did, Shep's hands ran down my shoulders and back. When his hands reached my ass, he began to knead it like bread dough. I figured I knew where we were going, but with a beefy bear like Shep I was more than willing to give in.

Shep squeezed my ass between his big hands. Then his hands followed the waist of my jeans to meet in the front. As I continued to chew and tug on his tits, Shep deftly unbuckled my belt and popped the snap on my jeans.

I could hear the zipper buzz as his hands opened the front of my jeans and then shoved them down over my ass.

My eager cock sprang up to meet Shep's leather-clad crotch. It rubbed against the supple leather of his farrier's apron as his hands moved back to my ass. One of his thick legs slipped between mine. I started to hump his thigh as his hands clutched my ass cheeks and pulled them apart.

"Bite daddy's nipple," Shep whispered. "Go on, you can be rough."

I chomped down on his leathery nip. I pinched it between my teeth and tugged on it. My hands slipped up Shep's powerful arms and ran through the thick hair which covered his back. I pulled myself closer to his brawny, husky body.

Shep's fingers were sliding up and down my ass crock as he separated my cheeks. His finger tips touched my puckered hole and my body quivered with anticipation. One finger pressed against my hole and I moaned. I was wet with sweat and the finger slipped easily into my chute.

I almost bit Shep's nipple off in my excitement. My ass muscles tightened around his finger as he probed me. He added a second wet, sweaty finger and I could feel my cock throb in response. My hips thrust against Shep as I rubbed my cock along his thigh.

While Shep worked my hungry hole with one hand, he pulled his free hand back and reached behind himself to unbuckle his apron. He pushed the leather apron down, stopping to take my hard meat in his fist and give it a few jerks before unsnapping his own jeans.

Still using just one hand, Shep opened his jeans and pushed them down over his hips. His cock brushed against mine as it popped out. It felt warm, hard, and fat. I tried to look down from my position attached to Shep's nipple to see it, but our cocks were pressed between our bodies.

Shep pulled me away from his nipple and I reluctantly obeyed. His fingers slipped out of my hole. Now I could look down and see his cock. Shep's jeans were shoved down his thighs to expose thick legs covered in black hair. His farrier's apron, which was still buckled behind his knees.

I bent my head down to meet Shep's nipple. My tongue ran over his nip and circled its base. It tasted salty. My nose was pressed into Shep's chest hair. He smelt of man, horse, and sweat. My cheek brushed the soft, wet hairs of his pelt.

flopped over in front of him. His cock bobbed above the jeans and leather apron like a living, hungry thing.

Shep's cock might have been a little short, but it made up for it in width.

The fat cock-head poked out of his wrinkled foreskin like the head of a snapping turtle. The thick, veined shaft made little jerks up toward Shep's hairy belly.

Shep took his dick in his hand and pulled the foreskin back. It exposed a bulging, mushroom head covered in precum and cock-cheese. He spit in his palm and rubbed it over the already slick bear-meat. He looked at me with those burning, dark eyes and smiled. I turned around without having to be told.

I bent over and rested my hands on four bags of feed stacked by the feed-room door. I pushed my ass up in the air, knowing what Shep wanted and knowing exactly what I was willing to give him. I could hear the squishy sound of his cock being greased up with its own

I felt Shep's free hand part my ass cheeks. I felt the soft, spongy hair of his beard and moustache as he nuzzled my crack. Shep's tongue glided over my hole. It poked and probed in quick flicks, like a snake. I had my own cock in one hand and I squeezed it each Shep's tongue pressed against my tight pucker-ring. I was ready for this bear to plow my chute.

I heard Shep spit and I felt his finger push the liquid into my hole. His cockhead was right behind it. I braced myself as he pressed his cock against my asshole. He had one helluva fat prick and I could feel it stretching my asshole.

I relaxed my hole and pushed back against Shep's dick. It slid into me, opening my chute up, and pushing post my sphincter. Shep's hands grasped my waist and held me firmly as his hips began to thrust back and forth.

Shep's thick cock slid in and out of my ass. I squeezed my ass tightly over his meat and I could feel his shaft gliding along my chute. The mushroom head brushed against the inner walls of my ass. Shep pulled it back until the builging head was caught by my spincter, then he slid it back into me.

Shep's movements were slow and careful. His fat dick moved easily in my ass as he poked my hole. I could feel his hairy balls brush against me each time he drove his shaft deep into me. I felt the hairs of his belly pressed against my ass as his body slapped against mine. I was turned on by just the thought of his big old bear dick in my hole. The actual feel of it drove me crazy.

I was pulling on my own cock as Shep fucked my ass. I would give myself a few swift tugs and then stop and squeeze it firmly until the urge to ejaculate subsided. I wanted to come badly, but I didn't want to blow my load before Shep did. After all, Shep was my quest, and we have a long history of hospitality here in the South.

I continued to work my meat as Shep started to grunt and his speed increased. Shep was ramming his cock into my hungry hole like a wild stallion. His balls slapped against my ass with a smacking sound. There was a moist, wet slurp each time his dick pounded my butt.

Shep held my ass steady as he drove his fat meat into me. He was growling and groaning as he fucked me. He leaned down over my bare back and I could feel his hairy me. I felt his big pecs press into chest brushing against my back. I felt his whole body shaking.

Shep let out a roar that must have startled my horses. He straightened up and shoved his cock deep into my chute. He made three or four short thrusts and I felt his hot cum blow into me in several blasts.

I jerked my own cock with a vengeance as pleasure swept over me and I blew my load. Three big spurts of white cum shot across the feed bags. With each shot my ass tightened around Shep's dick. I squeezed it dry. Shep leaned his whole weight down onto me. He was breathing heavily. His heart pumping against my back, his cock making little jerking movements in my ass as it cozed its last drops of juice into me

We stayed like that for a few moments. Shep's husky body on top of mine.

My body straining to support us both. Slowly Shep pulled his cock out of my hole.

"Whew, boy, you sure are one hot man!" Shep said as he wiped the sweat out of his eyes. "I haven't cum like that in a long while. It's been way too long."

"Now that you know I'm here," I casually suggested, not wanting to make Shep feel pressured, "you'll have to stop by again."

"Now I know where to find you," Shep grinned, "you just try to keep me away."

That sounded good to me. I looked my burly bear over, he was streaked with sweat and dirt. I wasn't much better. Bits of grit and horse feed were stuck to my belly where I had leaned against the feed bags.
"How about a shower and dinner?" I asked.

"Do I get breakfast too?"

We laughed as he threw his big, hairy arm over my shoulder and we walked to the house. The house where big Shep would become a regular visitor.

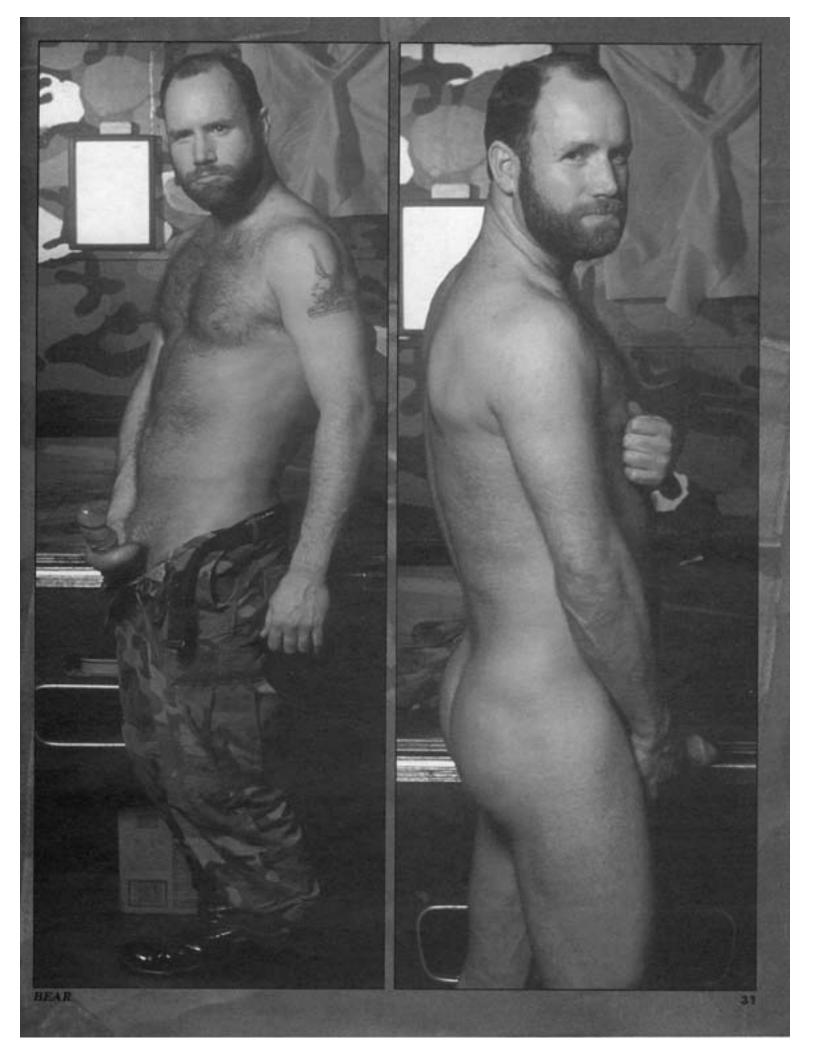

SCOTT

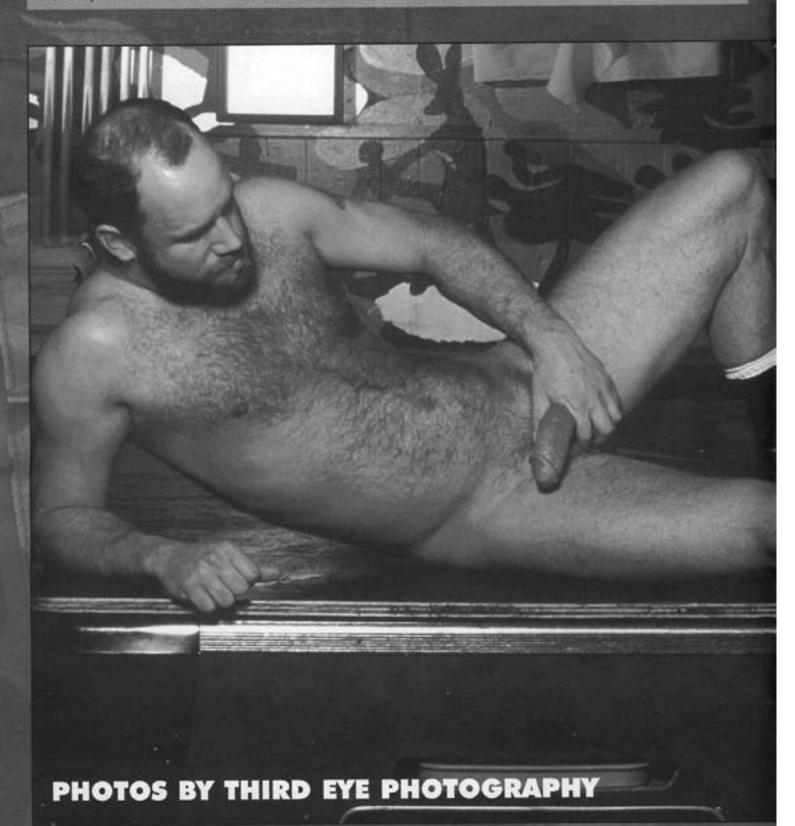

BEAR

Scott here comes from rainy Seattle. Sent us a few dirty polaroids a while back—you know how we just hate that—and waited for "the call." Didn't take us long, and it turned out he was comin' to town with a couple of buddies (Dan, coverman from BEAR 48, was one of 'em). So we set the wheels in motion to get this handsome guy photographed. He's one of those guys who would look into the camera, and if you were there, and you thought for even a second that he was lookin' at you, all the hairs on your plot would stand end-wise. Electric. We get the vibe that his great-lookin' mug might be hidin' a dark side, but we're not telling. Besides, who cares how dark that side is, when he's got that body and dick and a butt that looks to be just made for munchin'.

MANFRED

Hot Damn! Can you say "Hello, Daddy."?

We snatched Manfred the Man here out of the crowd of busy bees at IML/Bear Pride last year in Chicago. Blame Canada, indeed. That's where he hails from.

You don't have to look too hard to figure out what we saw in him. There's not really a bad angle here, so our photographer decided to take full advantage of Manfred's considerable assets, and he went & shot him from every angle, just so's you guys could enjoy the same views he was enjoyin'.

He's a top, in case you're wonderin', so the only part of you that goes into his butthole might be yer sloppy pig tongue, if you negotiate right. But he's coupled, so that might happen only after you' negotiate past his other half. Top or bottom... wouldn't it be nice to see that big bushy 'stache of his wrapped around your throbbin' bener? Yahoo!

He likes the leather and the rubber, and he apparently fucks the shit out of hunky Max Stone in the upcoming Brush Creek Media video Leather Ball. ®

gits & shiggles

Listen, it's not that complicated, for give me your Someoff or I eat yes."

Our buddy Stas' in Colorado sent us this great little Smirnoff ad. The little fella's sayin': "But, you're a bear." And, the bear says, "Listen, it's not that complicated. Either you give me your Smirnoff, or I eat you."

Stas' writes: "I saw this ad and thought you'd like it for Shits & Clearles, Wester's and the same and thought you'd like it for Shits & Clearles, Wester's and the same and thought you'd like it for Shits & Clearles, Wester's and the same and thought you'd like it for Shits & Clearles, Wester's and the same and the Giggles, Wouldn't we all want a Bear to cat us?"

So... Stas' - what about this particular Bear reminded you of us. Was it that he's big and hairy and demanding? Was it the limp wrist(s) that make him look like the Ursine equivalent of The Simpsons' Mr. Burns? ("Eccox-cellent, Smitherss.") Or was it the fact that he's such a lush, he's threatening a human life for a glass of vodka? Hmmm..... Come to think of it.. could be any of the above, actually. Thanks buddy!

CUTE LITTLE SUCKERS,

Nothin' like a good lick across a sweet bear to make your day, don'tcha think? We got a postcard in the mail from an anonymous principal of an anonymous school that sold these cute little bear-shaped suckers for a school fundraiser, and he thought we might like to get in on the action. The card said they came in 12 flavors, but it didn't mention the actual flavors. I'm bettin' that

"ripe armpit" "hairybuttcrack" and "dickheadcheese" weren't in the flavor choices. Dang. Anyways, there was an 800 number where you can order 'em by the baxful. So, we're thinkin' we might be selling 'em in the Bear Store soon. Might look good next to the dick-shaped glycerine soup-on-a-roup.

Stop in for a lick next time you're in town.

COMPREHENSIVE BEAR CLUB LISTINGS

tan and his sailor pal, Grant, both were very drunk. They had gotten shore leave in San Diego after almost two months away from land and bars. There had been no opportunity for sex without fear of being caught. They had made the rounds of the gay bars and nightclubs, but both of them had something more raunchy and unusual in mind.

When the two young swabbics ran into a big bear stud at their last pit stop, they grinned like idiots and agreed to go with him to his "lair" as he called it with a leering smirk. Stan had to hold up his blonde-haired partner, as he was blubbering drunk. But he didn't mind getting a good feel of his nineteen year old pal's hard muscular body as he dragged him outside.

Stan stumbled after the leather-clad stud, checking out his big hard butt and wide back as they followed him to his car. Stan shoved Grant into the back seat where he seemed to pass out in an inebriated stupor.

"Where are we going?" Stan asked, staring at the heavy bearded face of the handsome stranger. The guy was huge, at least six foot three inches tall and with biceps that bulged above very hairy and thick forearms. He was blonde, but with a deep tan that gave him a darker, sinister aspect. That really turned Stan on.

"To my lair, sailor, don't ask questions. You'll get what you're looking for And your buddy too," He sneered. With one huge hand he reached over and grabbed a handful of Stan's crotch, squeezing his dick and balls tightly.

"Oh my god, oh god." Stan groaned. The sudden sensation of mixed pain and pleasure had him reeling. He spread his legs and lifted his hips to allow the stranger easier access, and to relieve some of the restricting pain of his jeans and hardening dick.

"That's it, don't hold back and you'll have the time of your life. It looks like your sailor pal won't be denying anyone tonight." He laughed, glancing in the rear view mirror at the image of Grant sprawled out in the back seat. The blonde sailor's mouth was hanging open and his legs were wide apart, his head lolling back against the car seat. He definitely wouldn't be putting up much of a struggle, no matter what this guy had in mind.

They arrived at their destination, a warehouse in a darkened street that seemed deserted. The Bear had kept pawing and mauling Stan's crotch, even unzipping his jeans with his rough hand and pulling out his dick and balls to handle the bare flesh. By that time Stan was breathing heavily and shaking like a leaf.

"Get out, and get your buddy too. Don't zip up, either. Understand? "The blonde Bear grasped Stan's cute face and held it in a firm grip while he glared fiercely into his eyes. Stan nodded yes and rushed to obey. He had sobered up somewhat due to the excitement of the bizarre situation, but when he hauled his friend out of the car, the moans Grant emitted indicated he was still out of it.

They followed the stranger, Stan's eyes glued to Bear's big buttocks as they pumped up and down in a powerful cadence. He imagined a hairy ass beneath that black leather, and his tongue swabbing the furred crack clean. His dick, although already hard, twitched at the raunchy image. It was sticking out from the fly in his jeans where the guy had pulled it. He hoped Grant wouldn't notice it, now that he seemed to be coming around with the cold night air wafting over them.

They stumbled up dirty stairs to a back door, and when the blonde stranger yanked it open, Stan heard the steady beat of pounding music coming from a room somewhere near by. Dim bulbs lit the stinking hallway they followed. Doors on either side were shut, but obviously occupied as there was that heavy music and strange noises coming from behind most of them. Stan became a little nervous, although it was probably too late for that.

"Your buddy goes in here." Bear turned to Stan and stared at him stonily. He opened one of the doors. Loud, pounding and very crotic music blasted out at them. Another bear stud stood inside the doorway and conferred briefly with the one Stan knew. This other guy was big, and hairy, and dark as the acc of spades. He grinned evilly and reached out a large forearm to grab Grant by the shoulder.

"What the fuck-"Grant managed a weak protest, his eyes opening wide as he stared up at the dark face leering down at him. The music was blasting out of the room, dim light shining out in a sinister glow as Grant was swallowed up by the room and the door slammed shut behind him.

Stan almost followed, fearing for his buddy's safety, but a powerful paw had grasped his neck. His own bear was dragging him down the hallway and into another room where more music blared deafeningly. The door slammed shut behind them. There was a mattress on the floor, bare but fairly clean. Nothing else, Only that pounding music, which blasted out from a speaker in the ceiling.

"Get on the bed and open your mouth, sailor boy."The blonde stud growled.

Stan obeyed, his entire body trembling with fear and lust. This is exactly what he had been looking for, raunchy, filthy sex with a man who could utterly dominate him. And this guy was hand-some to boot!

The young sailor sprawled out on the bed, his dick and balls jutting out from his unzipped jeans, the cock hard and the balls swollen. He stared up at the big man bovering over him. He watched mesmerized as Bear used his large hands to unbuckle his leather chaps and drag down the black leather pants beneath. There was a dark shining jockstrap, leather as well, that encased a protruding crotch. Hairy tree-trunk legs appeared, spread out on either side of Stan's sprawled body. The blonde fur that covered those massive thighs snaked up between the man's legs and disappeared into the ass crack.

*Eat this ass, open your pussy mouth and use it for what it was intended." Bear growled,

Stan was shaking violently, and unable to move away. The guy raised up one huge leg and set it on a wooden crate beside the mattress. His butterack was exposed, blonde hair curling up into it, hefty globes of ass muscle on either side of that inviting crevice. He laughed as he reached down and yanked on Stan's shoulders with his giant hands. The sailor's head up was raised up and unceremoniously shoved it that parted, hairy ass crack.

Stan's mouth was already open as he panted for air. He inhaled a mighty whiff of the guy's ass funk. It was heady and exciting. The musky odour was like an aphrodisiac, as if the horny young sailor needed any more enticement. He stuck out his tongue and began to lick deep into the open crack. He tasted the blonde hair, then the smooth flesh beneath. He snuffled up willingly into the dark crevice, reaching up and grasping hold of each of those mighty butt mounds. They were huge.

He went crazy. He tongued and mouthed the crack, searching out the hole he knew had to be there. When he found the puckered ring of flesh, he dug into it with his tongue, sucking on the rim, and tasting hot, funky hole.

"Good little sailor boy, eat a bear's butthole. Get your little pussy tongue up there and rim me out."The stud grunted, his own pleasure apparent in the tone of his voice. He spread his legs wider while pressing Stan's head deeper into the parted crevice.

FICTION BY JAY STARRE

The music was muffled by Bear's fleshy buttocks around Stan's, but it's heady beat surrounded them, like some huge beast. He found his own cock was throbbing in time to it as he sucked and licked at Bear's hairy asshole.

Then he felt himself being shoved back onto the mattress. The ass he was eating remained around his face as Bear sat down on his head and began to grind his big butt over Stan's nose and mouth. It was fantastic, Stan's face was completely buried by the huge mounds of that hairy ass.

The massive body then moved, turning around so that Bear was still sitting on Stan's face but turned towards his feet. The Bear's feet were on either side of the sailor's head as he squatted over Stan's face. His asshole opened wide for Stan in that position, which the eager asslicker took advantage of. He delved deep into the steaming asspit, sucking and swallowing assjuice with total abandon.

"Ahh, yes, that's a good buttlicker, get your tongue way up there," the stud crooned, wriggling his powerful hairy butt over Stan's busy mouth.

Stan felt hands undoing his pants, and then removing them. He face was trapped between the huge hairy pair of buttocks as he felt his lower body being exposed. His thighs were pulled back and an exploring finger probed at his suddenly vulnerable asshole. He almost fainted when that big finger shoved inside his tender hole. A hand grabbed his dick and began to roughly flail it.

The twin sensations of his dick being massaged and his anal entrance being stretched apart by a probing, hairy digit had him swirling in a sexual funk of mind-numbing ecstasy. His mouth opened wider, just as the asshole he ate did as well. He was kissing the anal mouth as if it was a luscious pair of lips. He tongue-fucked deep, twirling his tongue far up the asschute be was being forced to eat.

At the same time his own hole was being harshly violated. The finger inside it felt like a battering ram. It dug into him, poking at places far inside his guts, then was pulled out to stretch and manipulate his tender asslips. The hand on his dick squeezed and yanked cruelly.

Stan felt himself cumming, a violent explosion originating from deep in his bowels where that itchy finger rummaged viciously. The eruption shot up into his swollen balls and then out the shaft of his aching cock. Gobs of cream spilled out over his smooth belly. His tongue did not stop it's exploration of Bear's beautiful butthole, but actually increased its wild gyrations.

Stan's body was racked in sexual convulsions. He passed out briefly, then came to when he realized he was being hauled to his feet. He was naked except for his tight tee shirt, which he noticed vaguely was now ripped.

"Let's see what your buddy is up to, and what your next duty will be, sailor!" Bear grunted in his face, his hard blue eyes penetrating Stan's sexual and drunken haze. Stan stumbled along beside the monster stud, his dick dripping cum as it swayed at his hips half-hard. The taste of asshole was still in his mouth, and now the odour of the guy's armpits and sweat filled his nostrils as he was hugged close to Bear as they walked.

They moved together down that same hallway toward the door at the end where the heaviest and loudest music emanated from. This was where Grant had disappeared into. Stan had no idea what was to come next, but what had already occurred had been incredible. He licked his lips and tasted the asshole he had just been smothered with, then inhaled deeply, smelling the manly musk of the bear's close body.

The door came near, Stan trembled, his half-naked body shaking violently. He was afraid, but incredibly excited. His dick even began to rise up once more. They reached the door, the music blared from behind it, the steady beat animalistic and sexual.

The blonde bear opened the door and the music enveloped them like a heavy surf. It swept them inside. The door slammed behind them. It took a moment for Stan to accustom his eyes to the dimness. There was a wall of bodies, at least twenty men, in front of them. Their backs were turned to them.

Bear dragged Stan forward, his big beefy biceps around Stan's shoulders. They went around the wall of hairy flesh and into a floodlit area in the centre of the room.

The scene there nearly undid Stan. It was unbelievably bizarre, and it was so erotic he found himself almost unable to take it in.

There was the wall of hairy studs surrounding one man on the floor. Each of the men was huge and in varying states of nudity. Hard bodies covered in

A naked young guy, hairless and pale, was sprawled out on hands and knees on the bare wooden floor. His white, smooth flesh contrasted starkly with the wall of hairy men surrounding him. And that pale quivering flesh gleamed with sweat, which dripped from it copiously. It lay on the swayed, back and ran down the plump pair of ass globes. The sweaty liquid soaked the short crew-cut blonde hair on the young guy's head and ran down his handsome cheeks.

Stan recognized the hapless guy on his hands and knees. It was Grant. His pal was at the mercy of these beasts! At Grant's head stood a totally naked giant of a man. He was large, almost fat. His bare chest was huge, with two slabs of fleshy pecs, each of which had long hard nipples, pierced by thick silver titrings. His hairy belly moved in rhythmic cadence as he shoved a salamisized dick into Grant's lolling mouth. Grant took the huge prick deep into his throat, his jaws stretched wide in total abdication. His eyes were bulging open as he stared up at the bouncing, hairy belly slapping against his dripping forehead.

At the opposite end of Grant's kneeling body another naked stud crouched. Grant's hard, pale buttocks were spread wide, the muscles tensed and pumping. The guy kneeling there was powerful and hairy, with immense forearms which reached out to grasp Grant's heaving butt cheeks. One of the man's hands held a fat squat dildo which he was into Grant's ramming stretched asshole.

The total scene was mind boggling. Here was his buddy, naked on all fours with a big dick down his throat and a fat dildo violating his butthole. And he was taking it There was no one holding him. His arms and legs were free. He was writhing slowly in a bizarre sexual dance to the tune of the twin instruments impaling him. His eyes were wide open, his dick was hard and thrust out from his hips. He was enjoying it.

FOREHEAD.

Stan wanted to scream or faint. It was almost too much. But the mighty arm around his neck held him right, and then he felt a big hand pawing at his bare ass, searching out his hairless butthole and then digging into it.

As he watched the naked form of his sailor buddy getting both dildo-fucked and face-fucked he felt two fingers spreading apart his own tender hole and reaching for up his guts:

The image of the powerful forearm at Grant wass, driving that glistening dildo in and out of his squirming butt fascinated Stan as his own butthole was getting worked over. Then he stared at the dark, thick piece of flesh sliding in and out of Grant's stretched open mouth, the hairy belly slapping against the willing sailor's handsome face, and he again felt as if he might swoon.

Stan didn't get the opportunity to faint he was dragged forward and his own personal bear lifted him up as if he was a baby. He legs were pulled apart and he was made to straddle the crouching Grant. His hard dick and swollen balls were laid flat over Grant's slippery back. His face was forced down into Grant's ass. He was impelled to watch up close as that fat dildo drove in and out of Grant's stretched anal mouth. Gobs of some kind of grease coated the dildo, and Grant's red, pulsing asslips. The rubber monster slid deep, and then pulled out, the pink asslips opening and then closing as the instrument violated the compliant sailor.

It was while watching this obscene and fascinating fuck, that Stan felt his own asshole being penetrated. Something very large and irresistible began to enter him from behind. He groaned and screamed, but could not hear his own voice with the pounding music blasting out. He knew what was invading his guts, it was another hard dildo, just like the one stretching his buddy's now sloppy fuckhole. He gasped and grunted to accept the big rubber dildo, and it went deeper and deeper, seeming to have no end. It must have been a foot and a half long.

He squirmed over his friend's slippery hot back as he attempted to accept the dildo fucking his asshole. He inhaled the sharp scent of sweat as it ran down his neck and pooled around his face. Someone held his neck as his nose was pressed almost into Grant's asshole. The buge dildo-fucking his sailor buddy rubbed against his nose and cheeks as it went in and out of Grant's hole. His pal was moving in rhythm to his own fuck beneath Stan. Something gave deep imide him. His asshole opened up, the dildo slid easily into him, his mouth opened and his tongue came out. He began to tongue and suck Grant's smooth hairless ass crack.

He became a total slut. fust as Grant had, as he was facked up the ass by the long hard dildo. He moved in sync with Grant, shoving back his own hard butt to take the welcome dildo far inside him. He even scooted forward slightly and tongued the fat dildo as it slid in and out of his buddy's pink asshole. He tasted assjuices and grease.

Sometime in the haze of It all, he realized liquid was splashing over his back and ass and head. It was thick and gooey. It had the smell of sex Their termentors were shooting their wads. Thick gobs of cum splattered the two pale and hairless sex animals that were once sailors. Stan's tongue lolled out of his mouth to taste the cream. He realized he was comming himself, his dick spewing between his slippery belly and his buddy's smooth back.

Stan awoke on the floor, another body draped over his. He opened his groggy eyes to look around. The floodlight still glowed down over him. But there was no one anywhere around. The body sprawled over him was Grant's. It stunk of sweat and cum, and male body odour. Stan grouned and focussed his eyes. There at his waist was his pal's hard butt. The perfectly hairless and pale cheeks were spread wide as Grant snored away in careless slumber, Stan could see his friend's asshole, winking up at him between those white butt checks. It was swollen and stretched, and still oozed a mixture of grease and assjuices. He was enthralled by it. He reached down and fingered the sloppy orifice. His own dick hardened where it lay trapped under the heavy weight of his passed out buildy.

Stan sighed as he felt the warm entrance of Grant's well-fucked hole. He slipped a finger inside, playing in the loose slot lazily. He lay back and closed his eyes. Memories of the previous evening came back to him as he fingered Grant's stack hole. He sighed again and grinned. No need to jump up and rush off. Maybe the bears would return to their lair later. For now he contented himself with the hole he had at his fingertips. What a night for a pair of sex-starved sailors! (7-

BEAR JAM 2000 · RESISTANCE WAS FUTILE!

On April 13, 2000 over 200 bears converged on Music City, USA and became assimilated into a 4-day weekend extravaganza including a "down home" outdoor barbecue, a special Riverboat Cruise aboard the Music City Queen, and the Annual Mr. Bear Jam Contest and the Lube Wrestling Championship hosted by none other than "Bertha Beumiller" all the way from "Tuna Texas." Special thanks to Steve Hurley for afficiating the Lube Wrestling Contest. During the weekend, over $1200 was collected for Nashville Cares, an AIDS support organization. The Mr. Bear Jam Contestants raised $1100 of that amount in about 20 minutes during the TV raffle and to Steve who donated his time for a photo booth and wrestling challenge for charity. Overall this was a weekend many will not forget. Bears did indeed go where no bears had gone before (or so it was said!) The weekend was accented with "out of this world" afterhours parties, great vendors and an overall atmosphere of brotherhood and camaraderie. The Music City Bears put together a top notch bear run that will be remembered for some time to come. Look out for next year's 2001: A Bear Odyssey - Bear Jam VI. It promises to take you out of this world again.

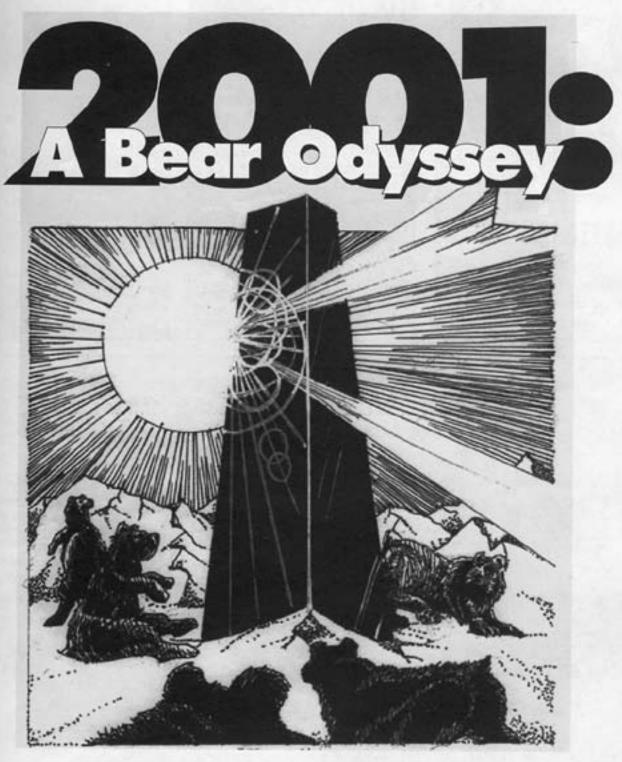

On April 13, 2000 We Boldy took Bears where no Bear had gone before.

On April 19, 2001, Prepare for the Next Level.
